Decision Reached at Executive Session of Ways and Means Group Today

TO REPORT MONDAY

Expected Measure Will Be Taken Up in House on Tuesday for Action

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The House ways and means committee today ordered favorably reported a beer for revenue bill.

The measure does not include the legalization of wine, which will be covered in a separate bill.

The measure provides for legalization of beer of 3.2 percent of alcoholic content by weight to be taxed at a rate of $5.00 per barrel.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The House ways and means committee today forged rapidly ahead in drafting a "beer for revenue" bill, decided in a morning session to propose an alcoholic content of 3.2 percent by volume with a tax rate of $5.00 per barrel.

At conclusion of the executive committee session, majority leader Rainey said he believed the bill would be ready for a final vote this afternoon. He anticipated no difficulty in securing a committee majority for a favorable report.

Speaker Garner said the bill probably would be reported to the house Monday and taken up Tuesday for action. It was hinted that provisions for wine would be omitted from the bill.

Rainey's confidence was based

URGE PREFERENCE FOR WAR VETERANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Continuation of existing laws giving veterans preference for civil service jobs was urged to a joint congressional committee today by Veterans' Administrator Frank T. Hines.

Hines also recommended transfers of all federal activities in connection with placing of veterans in jobs from the labor department to his jurisdiction. He said he did not believe this would require additional appropriations.

WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 15. (To the Editor of The Register): Got some news for you. Fellow wrote the New York Times took exception to some fool thing I had written and forgot about. The Times took it serious and so did people arguing over it. They thought the fellow was some authority. Now what do I find out? He is a young Harvard graduate, Charlton Ogburn, Jr., 22 years old, and like all Harvard graduates, "Junior" wanted to do something "worth while" for the old Alma Mater. But America's sense of humor has taught 'em there is three things they must never take serious; a columnist on any paper, a political speech by any candidate, and a Harvard graduate if he hasn't been out four years. Harvard is an eight-year school—four in and four out. But after then they are just as human and fine as any college graduate. So don't take the debt thing too serious, from either Harvard or O.C.C. (Oklahoma Cow Camp). Their information on the subject is about equal.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

INJURED WHEN MERE CHILD ANAHEIM YOUTH WAITS 17 YEARS TO SUE FOR $100,000

A damage suit for $100,000 has been filed by Donald Wade Foster, of Anaheim, against J. J. Mottel of Long Beach, for injuries sustained by young Foster, 17 years ago.

Foster, who was four years old at the time, is said to have been injured by a car owned by the defendant. It is claimed that the boy was sitting on the curb in front of his home in Long Beach, when the car driven by an employee of Mottel, struck him.

The plaintiff in the action recently attained his majority and filed the damage suit in which he claims that he suffered source spinal injuries in the accident and has been unable to work for the greater part of the 17-year period.

The case will be tried in department B of the Long Beach superior court January 10. McFadden and Holden, of Anaheim, represent Foster in the action. The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Foster, 741 North Clementine street, Anaheim, and is a familiar figure in that city as he propels himself about the streets in a wheel chair.

His sister, Mrs. Helen Genevieve Nelson, for a time was librarian at the junior library of this city.

Dr. William Walsh is Near Death and Assailant Killed by Police

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Dr. William J. Walsh, honorary police department surgeon and a physician of the New York Giants, died today of gunshot wounds inflicted by an assailant who subsequently was shot and killed by police.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Dr. William J. Walsh, physician to the New York Giants and honorary police surgeon, fought for his life today as he might explain why a mysterious visitor shot him and then fled to the street where he was shot to death by police.

Solution of a most baffling crime mystery depended upon his story. Dr. Walsh's assailant raced from his office still brandishing his revolver. He battled pursuing police until five bullets killed him. He was identified as Frank Clute, an ex-convict of many aliases and a long record.

Dr. Walsh was given only a slight chance to recover.

He had a premonition of disaster. Tuesday night he was called to the telephone. A man who said he was John William Wilson

TWO ARE HELD ON WORTHLESS CHECKS

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Clark Hubbard, 17, of Sacramento, Calif., and Clifford Dougherty, 29, of Moscow, Ida., were under arrest in Butte today, held for Missoula, Mont., authorities on charges of passing worthless checks.

Hubbard and Dougherty assertedly left a trail of bad checks in eastern Washington, Montana and Idaho, and were wanted by authorities in Kalispel, Mont., Spokane and Colfax, Wash., on charges similar to those filed against them in Missoula, officers said.

The pair assertedly stole $4,109 in payroll checks belonging to a Kalispel, Mont., contracting firm while in Colfax, Wash., then passed the checks by forging the company officials' names to the checks.

SEEK TO RESTORE PEACE IN BOLIVIA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—A new effort to restore peace between Bolivia and Paraguay was made today by a commission of five neutral nations, including the United States. In identical notes to the disputants, the commission proposed cessation of hostilities, separation of troops, creation of a neutral zone and arbitration of the quarrel over the Chaco territory.

At the same time the commission drafted notes to 14 American republics asking their cooperation in the peace efforts. It requested the other neutral governments to urge the belligerents to accept the peace proposals.

The neutral commission includes the United States, Mexico, Cuba, Colombia and Uruguay.

HOOVER DAM APPROPRIATION FOR YEAR CUT TWO MILLIONS

Reclamation Service Is Cut Heavily

Interior Department Appropriation Bill Reported by Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The interior department appropriation bill, slashed $23,990,780 or approximately one-third below that of the present fiscal year, was reported out of the house appropriations committee today.

Nearly every activity of the department in the next fiscal year, including work on Hoover dam, would be affected by the proposed cut.

The interior bill carried $43,192,904 for the department, compared with an appropriation for the current year of $67,183,684. The proposed appropriation is $2,591,025 below the new budget estimate.

The interior bill provides $8,000,000 for continuing construction of Hoover (Boulder) dam, $2,000,000 less than budget estimates and $15,000,000 less than the $23,000,000 which has been supplied for the huge project during the present year.

The committee suggested that because "no practical advantage can be gained by accelerating progress beyond a normal rate at this time" a "normal program" should be adopted for the dam, the $8,000,000 proposed allocation to be augmented by $10,400,000 already appropriated but unexpended.

The reclamation service would be allowed $11,051,000, a cut of more than $14,413,000 under appropriations for the current year; $3,012,987 would be taken from the Indian bureau appropriation to bring its 1934 total to $220,065 less than budget recommendations.

The committee proposes to spend an additional $2,231,150 from Indian tribal funds, a cut of more than $59,679 less than is being expended during the current year but $40,858 more than was recommended by the budget. The additional expenditures would be used to purchase farm land and equipment.

The general land office would receive $1,742,000, or $112,930 less than the budget recommended.

MAN IS FROZEN TO DEATH NEAR BLYTHE

BLYTHE, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—A man was frozen to death yesterday in this Palos Verde Valley where the summer temperatures reach 120 degrees and snow is comparatively unknown.

The victim of the unusual cold spell was Henry Petty Long, cotton farmer. He was found dead by four inches of snow which fell here Tuesday.

Records of the valley and lore of old Indian tribes indicate that the last snow fell here 150 years ago.

The Palos Verde valley branches off the upper end of Imperial valley, and borders the Colorado river in eastern Riverside county.

HUSBAND KILLED AS HIS WIFE SCREAMS PASTOR EXONERATED IN WOMAN'S DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Police today were seeking a mysterious "Sir Galahad" gunman who responded to a wife's screams by shooting her husband, Roy D. Barnes, 32, local radio musician.

Barnes, shot in the head, was given little chance to recover.

According to police, Barnes and his young wife, Gloria, were driving with a friend, Carl Long, when a gunman halted the car, his wife leaped out and ran screaming down the street, officers said.

Two shots rang out and the driver slumped over the wheel.

Detectives believed the gunman lived in the vicinity and fired, believing the woman was being threatened. Mrs. Barnes and Long were questioned and then released.

DR. MUNRO SAYS DEMOCRACY IN EUROPE FAILS

Institute of World Affairs is Told of Economic Changes Underway

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Dec. 15.—(UP)—A grim warning that democracy is foundering in the turbulence of a world-wide depression and that Europe is moving rapidly toward a new state feudalism was before the Institute of World Affairs today, meeting in annual session.

William B. Munro of the California Institute of Technology, who is discussing "Present Day Forces in European Affairs," characterized democracy a "fair weather craft."

He saw democracy in total eclipse in Europe where the masses are moving toward state feudalism "in which the government will assume responsibility for assuring everyone a livelihood just as the feudal magnates used to do."

"Both tendencies," the world-famous historian said, referring to democracy and feudalism, "are part of the intense new nationalism in the European states, a nationalism of which the disintegration of Europe to pay what it owes America is merely an outcropping." He blamed this disintegration on the Versailles treaty which "fixed boundaries without regard to resources."

Predicting the next two years will bring about political and economic changes in Europe of world-wide consequence, Munro detected a widespread revolt against democracy.

"Throughout a large part of the old continent," he said, "democracy rose to great popularity a dozen years ago, but today it is everywhere in total or partial eclipse. Fascism has assaulted it from the right and Communism from the left, with virtual dictatorship operating under the authority of demagogic constitutions in between. The reason is simple. Democracy falls down when acute emergencies come. It is a fair-weather craft which pitches and rolls when the storm comes."

"Government by the whole people, with every man's opinion created free and equal is all right so long as there are no difficult conditions."

NATIONAL THRIFT CORPORATION FAILS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The National Thrift corporation, which carried on $50,000,000 worth of business over a period of 10 years, is faced with a deficit of $3,338,000, according to a report of the company's receiver, on file in federal court here today.

Receiver Frank C. Mortimer said despite the "hopelessly involved" financial condition of the concern there was some hope for those investors secured in three separate trusts established before the company went into receivership, last September 8. Unsecured creditors were given "extremely remote" chances of recovering.

The concern had approximately 30,000 investors throughout the United States, most of them in Southern California. Headquarters were maintained here.

Oh Well, We All Must Suffer In These Times

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—The household of Stanley McCormick, incompetent member of the famous harvester family, must get along during the first six months of 1933 on a budget of $133,000, Superior Judge S. E. Crow decided today.

The budget was prepared by McCormick's board of guardians, composed of his wife, Katherine Dexter McCormick; his brother, Harold Fowler McCormick; Anita McCormick Blaine, Dr. William Ophuls and Dr. Langley Porter.

Although McCormick has been a court ward for several years, this was the first time his budget had been made public.

RAILWAY LABOR UNIONS SUBMIT COUNTER PLAN

Reject Railroads' Request for Year Extension of 10 Percent Wage Cut

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Railway labor unions submitted a counter-proposal to the railroads today for a one year extension of the temporary 10 per cent wage reduction.

The unions' reply rejected the railroads' request for a six months' extension which could be continued indefinitely under certain conditions.

With this concession, the unions declared bluntly that "it is time to stop talking nonsense about relieving the dire distress of an industry by increasing the dire distress of human beings."

The unions characterized the railroads as part of "the industrial and financial leadership which guided us into the depression and has been unable to get us out."

But as the railroads had receded from their original position, so did the unions concede some points.

Alexander E. Whitney, white haired chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' association, told the seven railroad representatives as the day's session opened in the Palmer House grand ballroom, that labor was willing to grant the extension under the following conditions:

That no change, or proposal for change, the basic scale be allowed during the period of the extension, except during the last month.

AIRMAIL PILOTS IN CRASH ARE INJURED

AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Ralph Montee and J. E. Bowen, pilot and co-pilot, of an east-bound tri-motor mail and express plane, were in a hospital here today with injuries received when their plane overflew the landing field after turning back here because of a snowstorm.

The plane landed in plowed ground. Montee's skull was believed fractured. Both of Bowen's legs were broken. The plane, a transcontinental and western airship, carried no passengers.

Both men live in Kansas City. Montee is married and has a 13-year-old daughter, Lucille, now visiting in Los Angeles. He has been flying 10 years. His father and three brothers also were pilots. One of the latter died four years ago of fever contracted in the Imperial valley of California.

HERRIOT TURNS DOWN OFFER TO FORM CABINET

France Finds Little Consolation in Her Default on Debt Payment

PARIS, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Edouard Herriot, defeated as premier on the war debt issue, declined President Albert Lebrun's invitation to form a new cabinet.

France found little consolation today in her default on the $19,261,432 debt payment due the United States, placing her with Russia, Turkey and a few other debtors subsequently hard pressed in world financial markets.

The French were frankly worried over Washington's outward calm over the default, behind which they saw veiled threats that Congress might forbid further sale of French bonds in the United States.

There were indications that the next government would make early overtures to Washington for re-

PLANS REFORMS TO SAVE STATE MONEY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Sweeping reforms in legislative procedure, designed to reduce expenses by 25 per cent and simplify committee sessions, were proposed today in a report of the assembly interim committee on legislative procedure.

Pointing to the fact that the cost of state legislatures has increased from $447,064 to $804,554 in the last 10 years, the committee recommended a drastic program of economies, hitting heaviest at printing.

Standing committees of the assembly would be reduced from 58 to 15 in number, giving each member a place on two or three committees. Under the proposal, the assembly would meet in the mornings, and afternoon sessions would be devoted to committee sessions from 1:30 p. m. on.

MEXICO NOTIFIES WILL QUIT LEAGUE

GENEVA, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Official notification of Mexico's withdrawal from the league of nations was received today by the league secretariat.

The Mexican government said withdrawal was due to the economic depression. Mexico's league dues are $100,000 annually. The notification gave the required two years notice.

Mexico joined the league in September, 1931, with the stipulation that membership did not imply recognition of the Monroe Doctrine. Mexico was not invited to join the league when it was founded in 1919, when the Mexican government was not recognized by the United States and Great Britain.

ROYAL "R" LICENSE PLATES ARE TABOO

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—The Royal R license plate series, hitherto reserved exclusively for friends of Governor Rolph, is to be discontinued, it became known today.

That is, the plates in the "R" series will be manufactured but they will be issued to the public the same as other letters in the 1933 automobile plates.

The announcement was made by Russell Bevins, registrar of motor vehicles, who says the demands made upon his department for special license numbers and low numbers has created a terrific burden. Bevins declared that thousands of requests for low numbers this year would have to be refused because of the increased expense of attempting to handle them.

NINE DEBTOR NATIONS PAY ON DATE DUE

France, Belgium, Greece Default and Retaliatory Measures Are Planned

BRITAIN IMPRESSES

Immediate Readjustment Demanded by All European Nations, Reported

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, introduced in the senate today a bill which would in effect compel American citizens traveling abroad to boycott nations which have defaulted their debts to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(UP)—"Pay day" for the war debtors today finds about $100,000,000 in gold and credits being transferred to the United States out of $125,509,341 due from Europe.

Nine of the 12 debtors were expected before night to come forward with full or partial payments about which the history making negotiations of the past month have revolved.

Great Britain paid her war debt installment of $95,550,000 today when the Bank of England earmarked gold of that amount to the credit of the United States.

Lithuanian Minister Bronius Balutis paid his government's war debt installment of $29,386.01 to the treasury today with a check on a local bank.

A representative of the Finnish legation said today that Finland expects to pay its war debt installment of $18,235, due tomorrow.

France and Belgium, whose cabinets toppled in the debt crisis are in default. Poland is partially so. Greece gave notice some time ago that she could not pay.

Quick retaliatory measures against the defaulters were urged in congress. Representative Knutson, Republican, Minnesota, introduced a bill to prevent flotation of bonds of defaulting governments. Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, sought to stop further payments to France for carrying United States mail.

The default definitely weakened France's chances of revision of her debt. Many congressmen felt this country should not even discuss revision with France until that country makes up the $19,261,432.

VIERLING KERSEY OPPOSES TAX MOVE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, today announced that he would bitterly oppose any effort to remove fixed charges from the state constitution, which include state support of education.

Kersey did not indicate opposition to a small reduction in these charges, he did say he would fight a disproportionate decrease as well as any proposal to eliminate them entirely.

State Controller Ray L. Riley and Finance Director Rolland A. Vandegrift have advocated eliminating fixed charges "frozen" in the constitution.

CHANGE DATE FOR TURNING ON LIGHTS

Christmas lights along the Orange county coast will be turned on Saturday night at 7 o'clock instead of tonight as originally planned, it was announced this morning by Dr. C. G. Huston, chairman of the Orange County Coast association's highway lights committee.

The postponement was necessary because several coast cities, due to adverse weather conditions of the past few days, were unable to complete their lighting projects in time, Dr. Huston said.

San Clemente citizens started today to serve sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee to transients passing through the city, the fire hall being used until the log cabin planned in connection with the Christmas lighting project, is completed. The Coast highway from Seal Beach will be ablaze with Christmas lights until New Year's night.

FIRST FROST HITS COUNTY. NO SMUDGING

Santa Ana and Orange county, as well as other points in Southern California, were touched by frost early today on the heels of a cold rain and snowstorm said to be of immeasurable benefit to farmers.

Although orchard heating had to be resorted to in some parts of the citrus district, none was required in the citrus groves of Orange county, according to reports.

In the Tustin district, the temperature reached a low point of 29 degrees at 5 o'clock this morning. The cold lasted for about an hour, when the temperature started a gradual rise. Lowest temperature in Santa Ana was 38 degrees at 4:15 o'clock this morning, according to the recording thermometer at Salserson Supply company on East Fourth street.

No damage was done to citrus fruits in the county from the first frost of the year, although roofs and lawns were covered with white frost this morning.

OFFICIALS OF COURT START ON NEW DUTIES

Changes in judicial and law enforcement department at the courthouse today placed Superior Judge G. K. Scovel on the bench as presiding judge for the next year and S. B. Kaufman at the head of the prosecutor's office as district attorney.

Kaufman this morning took the oath of office as district attorney to complete the term of Sam L. Collins who was recently elected to congress from this district. Upon taking office as district attorney for the next two years, Kaufman reapportioned all deputies in his office and administered the oath of office to them. He also appointed Collins as assistant district attorney temporarily. Collins plans to leave for Washington shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Kaufman has been in the district attorney's office under two administrations, serving as a deputy under Z. B. West, Jr., and as assistant district attorney under Collins for the past two years.

As a tribute to him, his office was filled with flowers. Among the floral tributes was a large bouquet from the district attorney's staff and another from the sheriff's office.

Election of Judge Scovel as presiding judge transfers that office to department three, where Judge Scovel has officiated since 1929 when he was appointed by Gov. C. C. AMALGAMATION MERCHANTS AND C. OF C. PLANNED

In an effort to work out an agreement whereby the Santa Ana Merchants' association will reunite with the chamber of commerce, directors of both organizations will meet in the chamber offices in the courthouse annex at 7:30 o'clock tonight, it was learned today.

Chamber of commerce officials today declared that it "was possible" that an agreement could be reached at the meeting tonight whereby the original status of the Merchants' association would be re-established. The Merchants' association was the merchants division of the chamber of commerce before it withdrew from the chamber.

H. E. Willard, president of the Merchants' association, addressed a letter to the chamber of commerce directors in which he stated that the Merchants' association directors would be pleased to meet with the chamber officials to consider plans for reuniting with the chamber of commerce.

Movie Operator Seeking Divorce

Harold E. Mathews, operator at a Santa Ana motion picture theater, has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Helen Bernice Mathews, charging her with mental cruelty.

In his complaint Mathews charges that because of his work which kept him away from home until midnight she objected and wanted him to find another job where he could be at home nights. She found fault with the amount of money he earned, according to his complaint. He also charged her with being extravagant and a careless housekeeper and with refusing to prepare a midnight lunch for him when he was through with work. Mathews charged that on September 25, last, his wife left home while he was at work and went to her sister's home in Long Beach. He asserted that he did not know where she was until the following Friday when he met his wife on the street. Later they were reconciled and lived together until December 4, last, when his wife again left him.

Allen Exonerated Of Theft Charge

Joseph Allen, charged with petty theft on a complaint signed by Marie Jackson, was found not guilty on the charge when he appeared before Judge Chris Pann in the Santa Ana justice court this morning for trial.

Allen was accused of having stolen an article of clothing valued at $5.00 from the complaining witness.

ORANGE COUNTY AUTO DEATHS TOTAL NOW 86

Deaths had claimed 86 lives as a result of automobile accidents in Orange county this year, following the death last night of Julius Miller, 70, an inmate of the Orange county hospital, who was struck down by a car said to have been driven by R. E. Murphy, of San Diego, last week.

Miller and a friend, W. R. Anderson, were walking back to the hospital from a roadside restaurant where they had gone for food when the fatal accident occurred.

Coroner Earl R. Abbey today announced that an inquest over the body of the aged man will be held Saturday at 9 a. m. from Winbiger's Funeral home.

Anderson absolved the driver of the car from blame in the accident, stating that he shouted a warning to Miller just before he was struck. When the car struck Miller, his head crashed against the pavement, causing a basal fracture of the skull which resulted in his death. Both legs were broken.

Miller is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Miller and a son, Albert R. Miller, both of Los Angeles.

Following the inquest Saturday, the body will be taken to Los Angeles where funeral services and interment will take place under the direction of the Winbiger Funeral home.

of the early Mission Indians who lived around San Juan Capistrano, as described in notes 100 years old which were written by Father Roscano. The book will contain 250 large pages, beautifully illustrated with colored linoleum prints and two-toned initial chapter letters.

T. E. Williams, printing instructor, has already selected the binding which will be used on the book. The binding will be brown, and the covers will be about 14 by 8 inches.

A peculiar fact is that the notes which comprise the book, were written 100 years ago but 20 miles from where the same notes are being put into modern print on the high school press.

John B. Harrington, authority on Indian languages and customs who is connected with the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, compiled the footnotes which are in the form of explanatory remarks. Harrington is now in Capistrano, working among old Mission records. The scientist has written an article for national distribution through a syndicate on the printing of "Chingichinich" in Santa Ana.

In last Sunday's Times, Harry Carr paid tribute to work of the Orange County Historical society and the high school printing department for the work in the History of Orange County series.

AUTHORITIES ON WATCH FOR "ORGANIZERS"

Attempts to "organize" the dairy products and ice cream industry, said to have started in Los Angeles, has not yet spread to Orange county, according to Robert Sandon, investigator for the district attorney's office.

Such attempts have been made in Los Angeles according to reports received by Sandon who is watching for entry in Orange county of the "organizers." One man, Thomas Walsh, was taken to the district attorney's office in Los Angeles for questioning in connection with such an attempt there. He was later released.

Executives of three dairy companies charged that Walsh approached them with plans to organize an association of milk wagon drivers and soda fountain clerks to raise and "standardize" the price of ice cream and milk, a system which it is reported is costing the residents of Chicago and New York several million dollars annually.

Sandon said today that no attempts at similar "organization" in Orange county have been reported. He added that such attempts probably would not be made here until the organization was completed in Los Angeles. His office, he said, is waiting for the appearance of organizers, however and they will meet with the same reception that was accorded the men who came to this county in an attempt to "organize" the dry cleaners and barbers.

DEATH OF INFANT DECLARED ACCIDENT

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury at San Clemente yesterday afternoon in the case of Herbert Adolph Stoffel, San Juan Capistrano infant, who died when a gasoline truck crashed into the Stoffel home last Sunday morning.

The accident happened when the driver, J. W. Nicholson, of Long Beach, swerved his truck in an attempt to dodge an automobile. The heavy machine jumped over a ditch and crashed into the Stoffel house, knocking off its foundation, the gasoline igniting. Mr. and Mrs. Stoffel and five other children escaped injuries but the baby was caught in the wreckage and burned to death.

Funeral services will be held at the Roy Divil Funeral home at San Clemente Friday.

MOLESTING GIRLS RESULTS IN ARREST

Charged with indecent exposure, W. L. Deakins, 44, oil worker, who lives at 921 South Flower street, Santa Ana, was lodged in the county jail late yesterday by State Highway Patrol Officer George Peterkin.

The defendant was arraigned today before Judge Charles Kuchel in the Anaheim justice court and bail was set at $1000, which was not made at noon today. Date of the trial, which will be held in the Anaheim justice court, was not set definitely.

Deakins was arrested at a school near Cypress, where he was said to have been molesting young school girls.

C. Frank, of Anaheim, is the complaining witness.

GASOLINE TAX DISCUSSED BY C. C. DEALERS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 15. — Having awaited the report of the Economic Council of Southern California concerning the distribution of the gas tax fund, the Chamber of Commerce board met this noon to discuss the attitude that the body of business men will take on proposed program. A report has already been had from the California League of Municipalities at the time the city went on record as favoring the proposed distribution.

According to word received this morning in the Chamber of Commerce office by George L. Reid, secretary, the Economic Council of Southern California, that met on December 12, "believes that officials of counties, cities and the state should arrive at a just and equitable apportionment of these funds to be administered in such manner as seems most applicable to serve the best results."

The board was also to discuss the request of the Taxpayer's League of Los Angeles that the Metropolitan Water company be further investigated before work proceeds on the new project. O. E. Steward, local member on the Metropolitan Water District board, was to be a guest at the luncheon and explain further the plans for the project.

ORANGE BUTCHER SUES FOR DIVORCE

Objecting to what he described as her desire to "step out and have a good time," Joseph W. Hudkins, orange butcher, has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. V. Hudkins. He alleged that his wife's desire to "step out and have a good time" was more than his morals, sobriety and industry could stand.

According to his complaint, on May 1, last, while guests were in the Hudkins home, his wife produced a bottle of liquor and attempted to induce her husband and guests to drink. Hudkins charged that over his remonstrance she drank liquor until she became intoxicated.

One June 2, last, he alleged, his wife came home in the evening while a guest was there and a few minutes after her arrival began to "disport herself in a 'semi-debauched' condition until the guest was forced to leave.

The Hudkins were married September 30, 1929, in Orange and separated June 3, 1932.

Citizens' League To Get Report On Judge's Dismissal

FULLERTON, Dec. 15.—Thirty members of the newly organized Young Citizens' Civic league assembled at the California hotel Tuesday night and made definite plans to hold regular meetings to study and to keep in touch with city, county, state and national affairs.

The president, Robert Hatfield, appointed M. Gregory, Bill Swain, Sam Taylor, Alfred Knight and Lloyd Verry a committee to study and to report back Monday night on the local situation where city councilmen voted, three to two, for the discontinuance of Judge Halsey I. Spence as city recorder.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
BY PAUL MALLON

GLASS

Behind the rush for the Glass banking reform legislation is a nice little plot to kill off all pending finance bills that are wild.

That is why President Hoover and Treasury Secretary Mills urged it so strongly in their messages to congress. That is also one reason why Senator Glass is willing to compromise and get it through.

There is no emergency requiring its swift adoption. If there were the Glass bill would not meet it. It is a long time reform proposition.

But the boys at the top figure that if they get it through at the outset they will spike attempts to guarantee bank deposits and such things. That is the word which has gone down the line to those who previously were lukewarm to the Glass bill.

Glass has mellowed considerably in the face of this situation. His word is the banking law of the senate. Nobody else knows enough about banking to carry on a first-class debate with him. When he compromises with the federal reserve crowd that means the legislation will go through. He has been working hand-in-glove back-stage the past few weeks with Senators Walcott and Townsend. They represent the reserve board viewpoint.

The house is another matter. The boys over there have inclined in the past toward wilder things than Glass likes. They will probably be forced into line this time by the non-partisan demands from the White House, treasury and senate.

carries large sums of money. He comes to work in it every day.

Some public men have an idea that only news favorable to them should be published. They have suffered bitterly of late. Unfair and untruthful accusations have been made against some in articles published in magazines and in book form. The newspapers of the country are not a party to such activity. Not more than three or four men out of the Washington press corps of 450 have indulged in such tactics. Only these few have hit below the belt.

This particular case can be traced to the undue excitability of the senate employee. It would not be surprising if some more serious incident arises before long.

Those whose word cannot be treated lightly claim Al Smith is raising a hullabaloo on the inside about being appointed to the cabinet.

They say his friends want him to be secretary of state. They also say if he wants to be secretary of state, he will be.

That does not follow necessarily. The way Smith goes about things he might demand the secretaryship of state and then compromise on the right to suggest a couple of other cabinet officials.

MILLS

Treasury Secretary Mills seems to be playing a private financial trick on the Democrats. They do not know about it yet but they will.

Mills offered only six hundred millions in bonds to the banks in the December refinancing. The banks expected eight hundred millions. Everyone else did. Where he expects to get the remainder was not made clear.

From deep within the treasury comes the explanation that Mills plans to use some of the cash balance. Nearly $800,000,000 had been piled up in that fund. Mills does not intend to let the Democrats get their hands on that cash when they come in March 4.

REPEAL

The smallest factors are sometimes the strongest in legislation. An Oklahoma congressman was still in doubt on the Garner resolution the morning the vote was taken. He was of half a mind to vote wet. At his office that morning he found four letters from constituents in his district. They all recommended that he vote dry. Not a wet letter was at hand.

The congressman decided the dry side was best and voted accordingly.

CABINET

Governor Roosevelt has a private list of nearly 200 names of cabinet prospects. They have been submitted to him by many interested parties.

The usual pressure from candidates is almost entirely absent this year. Few seem to want to get in the cabinet. But the applications for jobs paying between $2000 and $5000 is tremendous.

TAXES

Our budget situation is bound to grow increasingly troublesome. Many parts of the country will collect not more than 20 to 40 per cent of their tax levies. Several states have a default of 60 per cent in prospect, according to an excellent source. Practically all political subdivisions will be in hot financial water in 1933.

NOTES

Nearly everyone in the house is a speaker....Members complain at the excessive hand-shaking done by jurists who ought to know claims Frances Perkins is still a good bet for secretary of labor in the Roosevelt cabinet....Woodin of American Radiator is supposed to be just as good for secretary of treasury....There had been no decision reached last week....The federal reserve board has dropped everything else to help work out the Glass compromise....Our confidential official information is that the Jap activity in Jehol now is not the start of a campaign to take over that province. It is too cold there now for that and also too cold for the Japs in Geneva....Jehol will be taken in the spring.

DEBTS

Informed opinion here is unanimous that the British debt payment on December 15 will be the last under the present arrangement. The financial district generally believes that more progress would be made if both the American and British governments got down to political realities.

One element of hope is seen in the passage of time between the current payment and the accession of Roosevelt to the presidency. The idea is that both sides will have a chance to cool off and get adjusted to an unemotional discussion of the issues involved. A strong minority holds that this kind of emotion doesn't cool.

PAYMENTS

England's position will be helped somewhat by continuing imports of gold from India which still amount to more than half a million pounds sterling a week and sometimes are almost equal to South Africa gold production.

Lesser Indian potentates have not been able to maintain their current income on the usual scale by collecting from their subjects. Now when they need money to spend or to pay taxes they simply dig into their gold hoards and ship them off to England for pounds or rupees.

Several New York authorities are apprehensive that England and France may meet the situation by using a scheme which helped bolster their exchange during the war. This involved buying American securities held by their own citizens in terms of their own currencies and reselling them for dollars. This could lead to a dumping act which would do the local bulls no good.

STERLING

Several large American business firms which still have a sizeable export business to England are taking precautions against a drop in sterling by selling the pound short in an amount equal to their estimated British sales for some months to come. If the pound drops they are protected against losses and against having to raise the price of their product in England. If it rises they will probably gain enough in additional business to offset losses on exchange. This practice helps sit on sterling's head.

ENGLAND

New York hears that the British are having other trophies besides the debt question. Canada and the mother country do not see eye to eye in interpreting the Ottawa agreement and a row is brewing in Empire trade relations.

JAPAN

A New York bank with Japanese connections states that the Japs are keeping a watchful eye on the growth of French resentment toward the United States. A Franco-Japanese alliance is by no means an impossible consequence of the Franco-American debt friction.

CONSORTIUM

The Franco-German consortium to loan money for commercial projects to smaller European nations has been officially soft-pedaled until the debt storm blows over. Several American corporations are watching this situation with a good deal of interest. General Electric has a stake in certain European factories which would profit from such a development.

SUITS

Not all of the so-called "strike suits" are filed with settlement out of court as the main idea. Nor are all charter violations mere technicalities. In one of the most important cases the stockholder who brought suit has pledged himself not to accept private settlement. The attorneys declined to take the case on any other basis.

RADIO

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt's date to lead the Town Hall orchestra for a radio broadcast was called off by her new commercial sponsors. It is understood that they will permit her an occasional outside broadcast for charitable purposes but that generally her radio services will not be available to anyone but themselves.

The latest fad in radios, a tiny instrument which can be plugged into any electric light socket regardless of current is a product of the huge German Chemical Trust, the I. G. Farben. Sales in the United States have bolstered up the dwindling profits from dyestuffs and pharmaceutical articles. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper-Syn.

LAGUNA BEACH MAN SUED FOR DIVORCE

Charges that her husband declared that he "did not want any of the emotional experiences that go with married life," and refused to live with her are contained in a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Lillian Griffis, Fredell, against Russell Walton, Fredell, of Laguna Beach. Mrs. Fredell, in her complaint is seeking custody of the couple's child and $50 monthly for its support. The Fredells were married September 10, 1923, in Los Angeles and separated July 21, 1931, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Fredell charges in her complaint that her husband first left her in Los Angeles in October 1930 and was gone for 30 days. In February, 1931 at Laguna Beach, according to the complaint he told Mrs. Fredell "I do not love you and I don't want to live with you." On May 15, the same year, he again told her "I will not live with you. I am going away," and on July 21, he packed his things and left the home.

She charged that after the separation, in March this year her husband informed her "I want to be free from you. I do not want to live with you. I do not want any emotional experiences that go with married life."

St. Francis of Assisi established the custom of ringing the Angelus.

HURRY!

• You can hurry through your morning shave if you use the rust-resisting "BLUE BLADE." In the first place this blade is hard enough to cut glass. The steel is especially tempered to take and hold edges of phenomenal keenness. Easy, once-over strokes shave your face clean. You don't need to go back against the grain of the beard. When you are through shaving simply loosen the razor handle and hold the blade under hot water—that's all. The "BLUE BLADE" is then clean and spotless—ready for use the next time. This is one of many reasons why you get unequalled convenience and comfort with the "BLUE BLADE." Try it and see.

No package contains genuine "BLUE BLADES" unless it carries the portrait of King C. Gillette.

FOR CHRISTMAS—Ask your dealer to show you our special Gift Box containing 100 "BLUE BLADES." You pay for the blades alone. The handsome cigarette or jewel case—rich mahogany color—is free.

RECEIVE TEN TENS POTATOES FOR JOBLESS

Distribution of 10 tons of potatoes among the unemployed associations of the county is getting underway today according to William Riddiman, chairman of the Orange County food distribution committee of the unemployed.

The potatoes arrived yesterday from Stockton and are being stored in the Santa Ana Unemployed association headquarters pending distribution. They were secured from the growers at no cost other than payment of freight from Stockton to this point.

Riddiman said yesterday that the potatoes will be distributed among the unemployed groups of the county by the local groups. Distribution of the potatoes is being handled as a part of the county-wide program of cooperation instituted among the various community unemployed associations.

PARTY OBSERVES 25TH ANNIVERSARY

TUSTIN, Nov. 15.—The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Thomas, of 10 North B street, was pleasantly celebrated this week when their next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leroy Wilson, entertained a group of relatives and friends of the honored couple at the Wilson home, 111 North B street. Baskets of holly and sprays of cotton-aster provided decorations for the event, which also celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Thomas.

Following a charmingly appointed two-course supper served at 7 o'clock, the evening was spent with games, music and conversation. Several pieces of silver were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, to whom the party was a complete surprise.

Those present, other than the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, and their honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Thomas, and sons, Albert and Harold, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Andrews and son, Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and daughter, Kathleen, of Tustin; Miss Evelyn Smith, of Orange; Miss Doris Goodwin, of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morton and sons, Richard, Robert and Burton, of San Fernando. Mr. Morton and Mrs. Thomas are brother and sister.

CHAMBER ELECTION HELD IN JANUARY

PLACENTIA, Dec. 15.—In anticipation of the annual meeting, to be held January 9 at the Round Table clubhouse, A. S. Bradford, president of Placentia Chamber of Commerce, appointed a nominating committee at the regular meeting yesterday. Terms of Bradford, of Gilbert Kraemer, Mrs. Nellie Cline and of Frank Rosow expire. The committee is L. T. Aldredge, chairman; Fred Valle and Ed Eisenacher.

Ralph McFadden, who has been delegate for the chamber to the Associated meetings, resigned since he, as president, is automatically a delegate representing Orange County Farm bureau. McFadden and E. J. Menard talked briefly on the gas tax money distribution.

Next week, Fred Valle will discuss the public finance taxation budget, and Dave Brann will talk on the Auto Club of Southern California's proposed legislation on the gas tax money.

Dinner Is Held At Wintersburg

WINTERSBURG, Dec. 15.—A dinner party was given at the home of the Rev. W. A. Matson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church, and Mrs. Matson recently. Their guests included a group attending the closing service of the revival services. They were Evangelist Rex Barr and his wife and son and daughter; Mrs. Davis, who is in charge of several homes of which Mr. Barr is sponsor, and Mr. Davis, all of whom are of Long Beach; Westwood friends, Marion Banks and Mrs. Banks and their son and daughter; the Rev. A. M. Wagner, father of Mrs. Matson, who has been conducting the song service for Mr. Barr, and the Rev. and Mrs. Matson and their son, Wesley Matson.

Plan Baptismal Services At H. B.

WINTERSBURG, Dec. 15.—A baptismal service is to be held by the Rev. W. A. Matson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church, at the First Christian church in Huntington Beach Thursday evening, at which time a group of local persons who are entering the church will be immersed.

There were 70 persons who answered the altar call during the three weeks of revival services conducted by Rex Barr, radio preacher of Long Beach, and at a special service held Sunday evening with the conclusion of the meeting, these were inducted into Mr. Barr's radio club "K. C. W." A candle lighting service was substituted for the open air "firelighting" service on account of weather conditions. The Rev. Mr. Matson will carry on the service of the club. The members will meet once each week in connection with the fellowship service.

P. T. A. AIDS NEEDY

BREA, Dec. 15.—Workers of the Brea P. T. A. during the past two weeks have cut into sleeping and undergarments more than 200 yards of outing flannel and 50 yards of muslin. It was reported today by Mrs. Frank Bickel, president. Six comforters were completed in one day.

The yardage was purchased with funds from the P. T. A. treasury after that supplied by the Red Cross proved inadequate for the demands.

SAYS GREATER COOPERATION NEED OF WORLD

Taking as his subject, "What Cooperation Has Done for Us," Arthur F. Corey, superintendent of the Buena Park schools, outlined the advantages gained through cooperative efforts, and the needs of changes in cooperative plans at the meeting of the Orange County Builders Exchange Tuesday night at the new Fullerton American Legion hall.

It was the first dinner session held in the hall, and members of the auxiliary of the post served a turkey dinner to fifty members and guests.

Robert Strain, manager of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., gave a humorous talk on "Water Problems," using a chart, in such a manner that his audience somewhat wondered whether he were in earnest.

Reports of the chairman of the standing committees of the Exchange were heard. The membership voted to support the proposed legislation providing for contractors' liens on buildings, and also voted to recommend to the directors of the Exchange that rates be reduced the coming year.

In his talk on cooperation, Corey outlined the great advantages that are being gained in certain lines, and suggested that greater scopes of cooperation are needed if the present civilization is to survive, a cooperation that permits all effort to be for the good of society, to eliminate the wrongs brought about by one group working for its own welfare alone.

"Many means are being tried to establish a better social and economic order," he said. "Men are becoming largely machines in the present economic system. Russia is forcing people to cooperate hoping to gain cooperation of all peoples for the group; her plan will fail, for she fails to recognize the individual; democracy is another attempt, and in its analysis is an attempt to get legislation through the ballot to cure the evils. The average person, met on the street, and inquired of concerning certain issues to be voted on, will say 'I don't know.' Yet democracy is so founded that we take a million of those 'don't know's' in balloting and expect to get the right answer. "The one hope is to let people trained to the job outline the policies, put brains behind the social and economic problems and to stop letting politicians make decisions on things they know nothing about."

W. J. Kelly, retiring president, presided. A. L. Foster of Fullerton was program chairman.

Ban Dancing After 12 New Year Eve

New Year's Eve public dances this year will have to stop promptly at midnight. This edict was issued Tuesday by the board of supervisors and was made necessary by the county ordinance that prohibits Sunday dancing.

The matter came up when proprietors of the Valencia Ballroom applied for a permit to continue dancing after 12 o'clock on New Year's eve. In denying the application Chairman John Mitchell pointed out that the county ordinance prohibits dancing after midnight on Saturday until 6 a. m. Dancing in public places is permissible on Sunday after 6 a. m.

C. OF C. PREPARES TO ELECT OFFICERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 15.—Preparations for the annual election of directors and annual meeting of directors at the American Legion clubhouse.

L. L. Isbell, Irvin G. Gordon, Lew Wallace, H. H. Williamson, J. A. Beek and Stuart H. Lucas were elected for two-year terms at the last annual meeting in January. Eight others are to be elected and the legislative committee is slated to make recommendations as to the representation by districts, since the city has been divided into seven voting precincts during the year.

The other directors on the present board include Ralph Maskey, Mark Johnson, H. L. Sherman, E. I. Moore, W. L. Jordan, J. P. Greeley, W. S. Smith Jr. and Conrad Shook. Smith is president, with Jordan and Gordon first and second vice presidents, respectively.

E. I. Moore was named chairman of a committee at yesterday's meeting to co-operate with the credit association and other interested organizations in the district in an endeavor to secure new banking facilities for the district early in 1933. Theo. Robins and Secretary G. C. Macleod are the other members to represent the chamber.

HIKE PLANNED BY GIRL SCOUT PATROL

LA HABRA, Dec. 15.—Closing their activities as to regular meetings, the Girl Scouts will hold their next meeting, the second Tuesday in January.

Members of the Eagle patrol, who are now studying signalling, will hold a special meeting December 28, at which time they will meet at the Washington school at 9 a. m. and hike to the Brea hills, where they will practice sending messages by signalling. A picnic lunch will be served at noon. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Lambert Vanderberg and Antoinette Johnson.

All girls who have passed their second class requirements are studying basket weaving under Mrs. Jesse Hayden and they will have a special meeting the afternoon of December 20 at the Woman's clubhouse and continue their basket making in an effort to finish the baskets before Christmas.

NEW SUIT AND APPEAL FILED IN WATER CASE

Despite the recent decision of Judge F. C. Collier that the American States Water Service company of California should not forfeit its franchise in La Habra because of failure to pay a two percent tax on its gross annual income for several years, two new moves have been launched seeking cancellation of the franchise.

Just prior to the decision by Judge Collier, Attorney General U. S. Webb, representing the people of the state of California, in behalf of the city of La Habra, filed a new suit seeking cancellation of the franchise. Defendants named in the new action were: American States Water Service company of California; La Habra Domestic Water company; and the East Whittier Land and Water company.

Webb, through Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, who is also attorney for the city of La Habra, announced yesterday that an appeal from Judge Collier's decision denying forfeiture of the franchise, will be taken to the higher courts.

In his decision Judge Collier, while denying forfeiture of the franchise on the grounds that franchise forfeitures are abhorrent, ordered the defendant water company to pay back franchise tax amounting to $2760.36.

No Provision Made The new suit filed against the water company and its predecessors, the La Habra Domestic Water company and the East Whittier Land and Water company, is asking the court to cancel the franchise on the grounds that the franchise does not comply with the Broughton act which provides that franchises shall not be granted unless provision for payment of a two percent tax on gross annual income is made.

It is alleged in the new suit that upon application of the East Whittier Land and Water company the county supervisors, in May 1913 adopted Ordinance 97 granting the company a franchise to operate in La Habra and designating location of pipes, laterals, and service connections. This ordinance, according to the complaint, did not require payment of the two percent tax.

After incorporation of the city, the county supervisors adopted another ordinance known as Ordinance 184 extending the territory of the water company. This later ordinance did require payment of the franchise tax as required by the Broughton act, but designates territory other than that designated in Ordinance 97. All territory described in Ordinance 97, according to McCabe, was later incorporated in the city of La Habra.

The city of La Habra, according to McCabe, is seeking through the new action to have the franchise granted under Ordinance 97, declared void and rights of the defendant water companies, as it applies to territory covered by the ordinance, cancelled. This, it has been pointed out, will prohibit the American States Water Service company of California, successor to the East Whittier Land and Water company and the La Habra Domestic Water company, from continued operation inside the city limits of La Habra.

New Trades To Follow Brown-Senator Deal

WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Among the many injustices perpetrated by selectors of All-America eleven was the omission of Hal Moe, Oregon State halfback, and Art Krueger, Marquette center.

Operative Billy Stepp of Portland pens the following regret:

"I notice in your All-America you have left off the one outstanding player in the Pacific northwest, Hal Moe of Oregon State. We watched all of 'em play. Moe stood out like a champion.

"He played every game for the Seawolves, and was their main attraction. A hard tackler. Terrific line smasher. Not a sensational sort of player, but game after game he played stole the show.

SHONE IN DEFEAT

"This is Moe's last year. He steps from the campus as a player who will go down in history. Moe had been with U.S.C. or one of the other big schools he would have been All-America without a doubt. He was lost on Oregon State eleven due to their losing game after game. But all the defeats Moe outshone both sides.

"I am very sorry to note you didn't even pick him on the third team. Players on all the conference teams pointed to Hal as a terror, and the best all-around man they have faced in years. I understand that you can't see all the players. I am not sure, but this is just a line giving credit to a boy who deserves every line that was ever written about him in the columns of any newspaper."

COACH DROPS A LINE

Evidence in the Krueger case comes from his own coach, Frank Murray, who has been mentoring at Marquette for 11 years. Frank writes:

"I am doing here something I never have done before in my coaching experience, but I think the case merits special attention. I believe that our center, Arthur Krueger, is the best all-around man at his position that I have seen in years, and I merely want to call some of his good points to your attention.

"I realize that our record has not been outstanding this year, but in my opinion that makes Krueger's play more noteworthy. He has been the outstanding man of our line defensively for two years—being everything that a line player ever was on backing—a line, plus being infinitely more valuable slicing through a defense.

"I have never seen a lineman so roomed so consistently in the opening backfield. Time after time he has thrown opposing ball carriers for losses of five to 15 yards on attempted runs, to say nothing of the intensity with which he rushes and punishes forward passes.

BLOCKS PUNTS

"Last year he blocked six punts during the season and this year blocked eight punts in seven games. When you figure that five of those were blocked against representative lines such as Wisconsin, Creighton, Boston college and Washington and Jefferson you can readily understand what means.

"He blocked a Wisconsin punt in their 12-yard line which they covered for a safety in the end zone; he blocked a Boston college punt on their 12-yard line which led to our first touchdown; he blocked two punts on Creighton which gave us scoring opportunity, and he blocked a V. and J. punt which we recovered on their four-yard line.

GREAT PASSER

"In addition he has been the greatest passing center I have ever coached; his passes have been fast, accurate and beautiful-timed. He never makes a poor

EIGHT PLAYERS CHANGE CLUBS IN TWO SWAPS

BY HENRY SUPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(UP)—

Bigger player deals than those Tuesday and Wednesday were expected today as the major league baseball meetings were concluded.

The American league completed a pair of trades that saw eight players change clubs Wednesday. The first trade, including six players from the St. Louis Browns and the Washington Senators, laid the groundwork for the second late last night.

In the six-player deal, Washington sent Lloyd Brown, left-handed pitcher, and Sam West and Carl Reynolds, outfielders, to St. Louis in exchange for Walter Stewart, southpaw pitcher; "Goose" Goslin, outfielder who originally came from Washington, and Fred Schulte, another pitcher, Washington also parted with some cash—reportedly $20,000.

Immediately thereafter, "Bucky" Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, offered the Senators Earl Whitehill, southpaw hurler, for Stewart. The Senators suggested that Harris take Fred Marberry instead of Stewart. The deal was made. It was a straight swap.

The addition of Whitehill to the Washington mound staff gives the Senators two ace left-handers. Stewart was not very successful last season with the Browns but in 1930 won 20 games. Whitehill is an old-timer. He is 32. Last year he pitched in 32 games, won 16.

In the National league the trading pace was set by the New York Giants but all the deals were with minor leagues.

Eddie Marshall, once a promising shortstop, was traded to Buffalo of the International league by the Giants for "Blondy" Ryan, also a shortstop. The Giants also parted with some cash.

Bill Shore, right-handed pitcher of Portland, of the Pacific Coast league, was obtained by the Giants for Pitcher Sam Gibson and cash.

The Boston Braves obtained Herman Gyselman, third baseman, and Al Wright, second baseman, from the San Francisco Missions for William Walters, third baseman with Montreal in option, and $60,000.

The Cincinnati Reds bought Charles ("Foots") Blair, second baseman of Los Angeles, Pacific Coast league.

WAGE CAMPAIGN TO REINSTATE 'BABE'

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 15.—(UP)—Records of the Dallas Dodge agency on the now famous "Babe" Didrikson automobile advertisement today were on the way to New York as part of a campaign to regain amateur standing for the girl Olympic star.

Homer Mitchell, president of the insurance company where the athlete is employed as a clerk, obtained the records, ad proofs and a telegram, from E. Gordon Perry, local dealer. Perry said the ad proofs had a space for Miss Didrikson's signature but she had not affixed it and so far as he knew had given no other release.

COMPTON TWIN WINNER FROM S. A. QUINTETS

Unable to cope with teams several weeks ahead of them in practice,

Coach Bill Foot's Santa

Ana junior collegians were embarrassed, 63-27 and 64-22, in two practice basketball games with

Compton in Andrews gymnasium

last night.

The Terrible Tartars, with two teams of equal strength and development, just laughed at the opposition offered by the disorganized Dons.

Displaying unusual teamwork and basket-hitting accuracy, Compton showed off to an early lead in both contests, held a 20-2 margin at the quarter in the first game, a 21-6 lead at the quarter in the second meeting.

Byron Stoddard and Harold Spangler, forwards; Horace Rittner, center; Bill Bouldin and Palmer Stoddard, guards, started for Santa Ana in the first game, and kept up with the Tartars in the second and final periods. Trailing 16-1 as they entered the fourth quarter, this combination scored 11 straight points before Compton could do anything.

Palmer Stoddard featured Santa Ana's scoring attack, sinking two baskets from mid-floor and gathering 8 points for high honors. Bob Murphy went on a rampage, making 24 points for Compton. Teammates Verne Aiken and Bob Thorne scored 16 and 12 points, respectively.

Starting what he thought was his first string in the second contest, Coach Foot discovered little difference between it and his first group. Without the services of "Hen" Thier, star forward, the Dons took the floor with "Swede" Williams and Ed Bragg at forward, Alex Clark and Charles Lawson at guard. Thier, nursing a cold, was not in suit.

Santa Ana travels to Long Beach tomorrow night to meet Coach Mel Griffin's Vikings in its third practice game.

Speed, power, drive and deception—little words with major meaning—are frequently used to describe the Sentinels, a team that won the Bay league's championship without yielding a touchdown to six opponents.

Without further ado, Ingledwood's record is offered as evidence:

INGLEWOOD 153, Opponents 40

In addition to these official contests, Ingledwood participated in "scrimmage games" with El Segundo and Washington high schools, beating El Segundo by eight touchdowns, Washington by four. Washington went on to win the Western league championship.

Ingledwood fans laugh off early season reversals by Los Angeles and Manual Arts, two of the premier teams of the Los Angeles City league. They say Ingledwood scored first in both games and then Coach Dick Arnett jerked all his regulars, about whose work he was familiar, and inserted teams composed of substitutes in order to give his reserves experience for impending conference matches.

After the L. A. and Manual Arts setbacks, Ingledwood braced, proceeded undefeated in nine successive starts, with an uncrossed goal line at Huntington Park made two points on an intentional safety by smart Quarterback

TROJAN-BRUIIN BATTLE OVER COLISEUM RIGHTS HITS LULL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—The battle between Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles over use of Memorial stadium for football contests struck a lull today after U. C. L. A. representatives had released a shower of verbal pyrotechnics before the county commissioners.

The commissioners had met to pass on the city council's action giving Southern California eight preferential gridiron dates to only five for the Bruins.

U. C. L. A. protesters were led by E. J. Miller, dean of men, and Pierce W. (Caddy) Works, basketball coach, who declared that to give the Trojans a choice of eight dates for 10 years would "create an intolerable situation" and leave the Bruins only the "left-over" dates for their big games. In the heat of the debate, a zealous Bruin supporter threatened to take over the Rose Bowl, a threat which drew general laughter because it had been used previously by Trojan backers.

Asa B. Call, secretary of the U. S. C. board of trustees, declared his school had turned nearly $750,000 over to the public treasury in the last 10 years for use of the stadium.

Commissioners took the matter under advisement.

REVEAL 'STORY' OF FIRST ROSE TOURNEY GAME

By GEORGE H. BEALE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(UP)—

The country's growing sissy about its sports and that's the reason for the distressing state of the union, including the depression, the post office deficit and the Boston Red Sox.

We learned of this while searching through dusty newspaper files for details of the first Pasadena New Year's Day football game when Michigan trounced Stanford, 49 to 0, in 1902.

"The Michigan players," one outspoken sports writer wrote after the game, "sport calves like piano legs and arms to match. They all are hard as rocks. The Stanford boys, on the other hand, are a little soft."

No Subs for Michigan

"The result is evinced in the disability list. Michigan did not make any substitutions while four of the Stanford players were 'put out.'

"Among the Stanford softies was Roosevelt, a guard. It developed that he played along for 15 minutes with two broken ribs and a fractured leg before he finally was 'put out.'

"From the start," the reporter concluded this phase, "it was college football. The game was an exhibition of good, clean sport, and of the kind that lovers of athletic prowess wish to see."

It seemed that the "lovers of athletic prowess" were an all around red blooded bunch for a pre-game story said:

"The players of both teams have expressed themselves as pleased with the new grounds, which are as level as a floor and surrounded by wire, so that the crowd will not interfere."

The same story reported that Captain Fisher of Stanford was "cool and stout-hearted."

"We realize the contest will try our ability to the utmost," the captain was quoted. "But we have the ability and I assure you that my men are in no way intimidated. We will demonstrate what we are capable of."

Stout-hearted Captain Fisher's men demonstrated they were capable of losing, 0 to 49.

"The teams were cheered to the echo" as they rode in trolleybuses in the Tournament of Roses parade on the way to the field and only one untoward incident occurred in the parade.

"Estaban Castro, a caballero, lost a valuable horse. It dropped dead under him while the procession was climbing a hill."

There were approximately 5000 people at the field that day, "the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Southern California."

Some 2000 of the fans climbed the fence despite the good efforts of the manager of the field and one policeman to force them all through a single turnstile.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Dec. 15.—(INS)—

Singing the praises of their conquerors, Notre Dame's football players deposited their mole skins in storage today, following their return from Los Angeles

where they were defeated by

Southern California last Saturday.

A crowd of about 3000, including virtually the entire student body, turned out at the South Bend railway station to greet the team yesterday.

The gridders were not accompanied by their mentors, Coach "Hunk" Anderson remained in California to witness the California-Georgia Tech game Saturday, while Athletic Director Jesse Harper stopped off at his Hutchinson, Kan. ranch for a visit of a few weeks.

Notre Dame players characterized the Southern California team as one of the mightiest they had ever encountered.

Coach "Tex" Oliver personally holds slight hope of using Montgomery who is still suffering from head injuries sustained in the semi-final Santa Barbara game.

"We've ordered him to remain in bed today and tomorrow which means he will have missed a full week of practice," Oliver explained. "Even if he feels all right Saturday it is not likely that Monty will be strong enough to do much footballing. I seriously doubt whether he will be able to use him at all."

A new series of x-ray pictures failed to reveal injuries but Montgomery suffered spells of dizziness during practice again yesterday so Oliver directed him to go home and stay in bed Thursday and Friday.

The Saints welcomed back one cripple yesterday but another took his place on the casualty list.

Halfback Herb Duncan, who may be needed with Montgomery out, reported after missing several practices on account of the flu. Wyman Lemon, hustling little left guard, Underwood's No. 1 under study, was not in school on Saturday.

DONS TO NAME '33 CAPTAIN AT SQUAD BANQUET

Twenty-seven candidates, including 16 freshmen, have been recommended for football letters at Santa Ana junior college, and from this group a 1933 captain will be selected tonight when squad members and guests are honored at a banquet sponsored by the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, Inc., in the association rooms at Tenth and Main streets.

Several U. S. C. football stars, among them Orv Mohler, Captain "Ray" Brown and Curt Youel, have been invited as special guests, it was learned today.

Four Dons—"Bono" Koral, Tom Carlyle, Jack Fredericks and "Swede" Williams—stand the best chance to receive the new captaincy, although 12 others are eligible. Fredericks was elected temporary captain this season after Jim Hall, blocking halfback and regular pilot, injured his knee and was forced to retire.

The number of monograms awarded sets a record at the junior college. The new football rules, in which more substitutions are allowed, explain the increase in letters," Coach Bill Cook of the Dons said. His 1932 list follows:

Ends—Tom Carlyle, Fred Brooks, Toby Groenow, Earle ("Tex") Harris and Jim Lash. Trunkies—Lucius Conkey, "Bono" Koral, Harold Benson and Gil Kluhe. Guards—Captain Jack Fredericks, Dick Hoffmann, Claude ("Swede") Williams, LeRoy DeSmet and Garth Olsen. Centers—Gilbert Melsinger, Raymond Hoar and Bruce Handy. Quarterbacks—Bill Bouldin, Charles Bowden and Bill McDaniels. Halfbacks—Hideo Higashi, Paul Jungkelt, Fred ("Porky") Bell and Bill Campbell. Fullbacks—Jim Daneri, Wally Smith and Harold Welty.

TITLE GAME TO BE BROADCAST BY RADIO KREG

The season's greatest intercollegiate gridiron struggle, in which Santa Ana and Inglewood will battle for the Southern California championship Saturday, will be broadcast over KREG, according to arrangements perfected today.

Announcement is made that the Chandler Furniture company, one of Orange county's leading firms, will sponsor the game over the local radio station. Details have been completed whereby a play-by-play description of the titular game will be broadcast direct from Manual Arts field in Los Angeles, where Santa Ana and Inglewood will compete for the 1932 championship.

Participating in the broadcast will be members of the news staff of The Register, whose intimate knowledge of the players will prove an invaluable asset to KREG officials.

The inordinate interest manifested in the game, is expected to witness a new record for KREG with respect to its huge listening audience. Practically every football-minded person in Orange county is expected to tune in on KREG for Saturday's high school classic.

The Chandler sponsorship of the game will start shortly before 2 o'clock Saturday, when the preliminaries will be broadcast from the playing field at Los Angeles.

which will be the basis of a talk to be delivered tomorrow morning over KREG by the Rev. Malstrom.

Malstrom will tell of the situation prior to the uprising and describe the experiences of Reverend and Mrs. McNaught during the uprising. He also will tell something of the work accomplished by the two missionaries while in the center of the "red" uprising.

This is one of the many interesting features of the Foreign Mission period which is on the air every morning except Sunday from 10 to 10:15. Last week the Rev. Ford Canfield, district secretary of the China Inland Mission told of missionary work in China.

On Monday of this week Mrs. Nichols-Roy of India told of her experiences during her 26 years of service in that land and also explained Gandhi's attitude toward the missionaries.

will be on the National Broadcasting company's Hollywood on the Air program over KECA and KFSD from 9:30 to 10 o'clock tonight. Dorothy Wilson, Julie Hayden, Tom Brown, Ben Alexander, Richard Cromwell, Eleanor Helm and William Bakewell are some of the new screen finds who will be featured on this broadcast.

An analysis of the brass instruments in music and a discussion of dances of the old world, will conclude Dr. Walter Damrosch's NBC Music Appreciation Hour broadcasts to Series A and Series B listeners for 1932, when he is heard over a transcontinental National Broadcasting company network including KECA and KFSD, at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

Damrosch's own fanfare, "The Hunting Horns," will be the first composition to illustrate the use of the brass instruments. Excerpts from the Overture to "Mignon," the March from "Aida," the "Light Cavalry" Overture and the Introduction to Act III of "Lohengrin" will be heard during the first half hour by Series A students throughout the country. A notable group of old world dances will be played by the NBC Symphony Orchestra in illustration of Damrosch's remarks to Series B listeners at 8:30 a. m. The series will be resumed on January 13, 1933.

SEEK CRITICISM OF PRESENTATIONS

KREG's program director is anxious to hear from listeners regarding the three "old time" programs now being presented over the station. The programs are similar in that old time music is included in the repertoire of each group of entertainers but the methods of presentation and the variety of other features included in the programs make each presentation different.

The three groups now appearing over radio KREG are: The Blue Ridge Mountaineers, scheduled for 7 o'clock every Tuesday and Thursday night; The Orange County Kill Willies at 8:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays; and the Four Happy Brothers at 8:30 p. m. Mondays and Saturdays.

Specific criticisms will help these groups to improve their presentations or, in the case the criticisms are adverse, to eliminate them.

RADIO FEATURES

Incidental music composed by Erich Korngold for a famous Shakespearean comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," will be the concluding high spot of the 60-minute concert when the San Francisco Symphony orchestra under Alfred Hertz presents the Standard Symphony Hour at 8:15 o'clock tonight over KFL. More familiar selections complete the program. Among these are the first movement of Mozart's last symphony work, the "Jupiter" Symphony, and a concert arrangement of the Prelude and Love Death from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," based on a great story contained in an old Minnesinger legend.

Jaroslav Novak, Czechoslovakian consul general in New York, will describe how his country is overcoming the present economic crisis, in a talk over a National Broadcasting company network, including KECA and KFSD, at 8:15 o'clock tonight. Novak, who also is president of the Foreign Consuls in New York, will talk on "Czechoslovakia Fights the Depression."

HOLIDAY MUSIC FESTIVAL WINS WARM PRAISE

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

So enjoyable was the concert given Tuesday night by representative artists of the community, and so worthy as the cause inspiring the event, the Unemployed association of Santa Ana, that it should have been enjoyed by an audience twice the size of that assembling in Santa Ana High school auditorium for the opening number at 8 o'clock.

However, the audience perhaps tuned in appreciation for what it asked in size, and enjoyment of the program was expressed with enthusiasm from the stirring numbers with which the Municipal band launched the program, to the final strains of "Star Spangled Banner," with which the same musical organization brought it to a close.

D. C. Clanton, founder and director of the band, was accorded appreciation not only for his musical ability, but for his efforts in assembling such an array of talent, and he had charge of arranging the benefit program. Under his direction, the band swung spiritedly into the opening number, "La Seine de Saba" by Gounod, followed by "Organ Offertoire" (Battiste) in which the deep and melodious organ notes were reproduced skillfully by the brasses, and which was an outstanding number in the program.

Cantando club members with their director, Leon Eckles, and accompanist, Ruth Armstrong, drew hearty applause for their part in the program. Two numbers which had proved highly popular on their concert programs, and whose spirit seemed to fit in with the general theme of the evening, were sung with the artistry that Santa Anans have learned to expect from this group. They were "Thanks Be to God" (Dickson) and Huhn's "In-letus."

Miss Jean Baldwin, soloist, appearing after the male chorus, was a talented young student of the junior college, and her clear high soprano was heard in an aria, "Caro Nome," from Verdi's "Rigoletto," with Duncan Harnois, another talented Jaycee student, as skillful accompanist.

Piano Premiere
Earl Fraser, the succeeding artist, made rather a daring experiment and one that was happily successful, in presenting an ultra-modern piano composition, one so extremely modern that his was the distinction of being the first to play it in public on the western coast. It was the first movement of an Alexander Concerto, with Ione Tunison Peak at the second piano. They played brilliantly, and the number was received with enthusiasm and interest, especially by the large number of musicians in the audience.

Cecile Fross Williams, Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, Leonora Tompkins, Edith Cornell, Marie Bishop, Irma Hoffman May, Holly Lash Visel and Sally Lee Seales, comprising the Musical Arts Octet, with Ruth Armstrong at the piano, sang Bassett's "Take Joy Home," and the Brahms' "Cradle Song," with that same finish and depth of expression that had won them such praise recently when they sang informally for that finished concert artist, Coe Glade.

The Capella choir of Santa Ana Junior college was another outstanding feature of the program, "Dear Land of Home" by Sibellus the youthful singers arousing enthusiasm by their rendition of and the Negro spiritual, "Father Abraham." They were directed by Miss Myrtle Martin of the college music department.

Guest Violinist
The one exception to this group of local musicians, was Albert Angermayer of Los Angeles, first violinist not only with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, but also with the Hollywood String quartet, and recognized as one of the leading artists of the western coast, with a nation wide reputation.

His rare gifts as an artist were shown in his rendering of "Variation" by Tartini, and especially in his "Spanish Dance" by Sarasate. His accompanist, Gertrude Schuch, also is a Los Angeles musician who came to this city especially to assist a worthy cause.

The spirit of solemn beauty and reverence sweeping the world as Christmas nears, was expressed beautifully by the Cadman Choral club, singing the Adam arrangement of "O Holy Night" and an exquisitely muted "Silent Night" (Gruber) directed by William Clair Hall.

Junior college young people furnished the succeeding number, Schubert's "Ave Maria," sung by combined Girls Glee clubs directed by Miss Myrtle Martin, and with special accompaniments, Alan Revil at the piano; Alta Fisher at the organ, Emma Elena Richards, violin obligato, and solo parts sung by Miss Baldwin. It was a smoothly beautiful number, and there were many comments on the success which Miss Martin is showing in her music department.

For the finale of the interesting evening, the Municipal band again came to the fore, playing the overture to "William Tell" (Rossini) with the same beauty that had inspired earlier numbers. The continued applause which showed the audience's appreciation for the inspiring music of the entire program, met the one encore response of the evening, when the band remained on the stage to present the National Anthem, a fitting conclusion to the program.

Gets $50 Fine For Reckless Driving

S. Tanishita was fined $50 on a charge of reckless driving when he appeared before Judge Chris Pann in the Santa Ana justice court to answer to the charge. He paid the fine and was released from his bail bond. The complaint was signed by State Officer F. G. Yoder, who arrested the man on November 25 on Orangefor road.

Thief Gets Loot At Midway City

The office of Walter J. Hill in the Hotel building at Midway City was burglarized last night and thieves escaped with a new adding machine, a typewriter and a desk lamp, according to a report of the burglary filed today with the sheriff's office.

The thieves entered the office rooms by taking a screen from a back window and entering through the window.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hurst and daughter, of Los Angeles, were entertained at dinner one day in the home of Mrs. Hurst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis, who have been ill with influenza, are convalescing.

Mrs. Maude Michl went to Los Angeles Thursday to attend a bridge club meeting and, remaining as an overnight guest of her son, returned home on Friday.

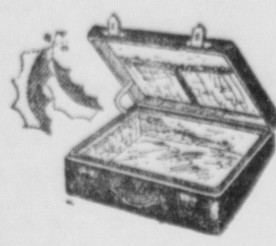

WESTMINSTER
WESTMINSTER, Dec. 15.—Ulrich King of Porterville, an early day resident of Westminster, called on local friends in company with Hensler Larter, of Huntington Beach, whose guest he has been. Mr. King's father was an early day pastor of the local church.

Mrs. Alice Hare is reported as ill with influenza.

Groups of teachers of the Westminster school attended two sessions of teacher's institute this week. They were Mrs. Alethia Ryckman, Miss Bessie Ward, Miss Wilma Hackley, Harold Boos, Mrs. John Adams, Miss French and Mrs. B. B. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gill who recently lost their home by fire, returned to their ranch Wednesday, the other house on the place having been remodelled for their residence. The family has been at Sunnyside Gardens with relatives since the fire.

Mrs. Gill was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower given at the parish house of the Trinity Episcopal church of Orange Tuesday night. There were 60 persons present, a program entertained, while refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

C. Of C. Condemns Effort To Delay Aqueduct Work

M. W. D. BOARD COMMENDED IN RESOLUTION

An apparent effort on the part of the Los Angeles division of the California Taxpayers' association to obstruct the progress of work on the Metropolitan Water district to Colorado river aqueduct was condemned by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce directors in a resolution adopted at the regular bi-monthly meeting yesterday.

The directors had received a letter from F. J. Flagg, secretary of the taxpayers' group, asking them to accept a resolution urging the M. W. D. board to submit the question of constructing the aqueduct to the division of water resources of the Department of Public Works of California before proceeding further with construction plans.

The resolution sent to the local chamber by the association declared a disbelief in the economic soundness of the project as proposed by the water district and said that it was desired to prevent an "unwise expenditure of public funds."

Express Confidence

In the resolution adopted yesterday, the local chamber directors set out at length the reasons for implicit confidence in the M. W. D. board and the engineers and in the soundness of the project. Including the extensive investigations which had been made before the project was started to bring water here from the Colorado river.

"Following is the resolution, in part:

"Now, Therefore Be It Resolved: First, that we, the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, hereby express our unreserved approval of the actions taken by the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water district in pushing forward the stupendous project as approved by a great majority of voters of the district and assure them of our full confidence in their ability to complete the job in the interests of the people of the district.

"Second, that we commend them for the firm stand which they have taken in successfully warding off the obstructive tactics pursued by numerous small groups from time to time.

Urge No Delay

"Third, that we recommend that the board of directors do not submit any questions, at this late date to the division of water resources

AUTHORITIES START DRIVE ON HANDBILLS

Through the efforts of Chief of Police Floyd Howard and members of his force, several merchants or agencies who have been distributing hand bills to homes in Santa Ana in violation of a city ordinance, have been halted in the distribution, it was learned today.

The city ordinance makes it mandatory that hand bills be handed directly to someone inside of the house, and not thrown on the porch or in the yard. It was pointed out today by Assistant Chief Harry Fink. Wherever notice comes to the police department that such distribution is taking place as is unlawful, the police department immediately begins an investigation, he said.

The distribution of hand bills to the homes of Santa Ana has been discontinued by several well known merchants, according to A. Cavalli, manager of the Santa Ana Merchants' association. "It is hoped that other merchants in the city will discontinue this method of distribution at once so as not to violate the city ordinance," Cavalli said.

POSTPONE ACTION

TUSTIN, Dec. 15.—City license fees were discussed at a special meeting of the city council held at the city hall this week but no definite action was taken in regard to making any adjustments or lowering the fees.

"Be It Further Resolved: that we the board of directors express confidence in the officers and directors of the Metropolitan Water district and urge them not to delay work on this project which will furnish an abundance of water to the fast receding water levels of Orange county."

Copies of the resolution were forwarded to the board of directors of the M. W. D., to chambers of commerce in cities of the district, to the Los Angeles division of the California Taxpayers' association and to the press.

LIFE STORY OF FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

By Leland M. Ross and Allan W. Grobin

(This intimate story of the life of Franklin D. Roosevelt begins with the time his father took him as a 5-year-old to call on his close friend, Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, carries the reader through an interesting boyhood on the family farm at Hyde Park, N. Y., his student days at Groton, Harvard and Columbia law school, and the development of his political career, which began with a New York State senatorial term. The biography is entirely authentic. Recent installments told of F. D.'s courageous fight against the after-effects of infantile paralysis, and the work of the Warm Springs Foundation, which established in Georgia after deriving great benefits from the battle there. In 1928 he worked for the national ticket and was elected governor of New York, running far ahead of E. Smith as President, and the national ticket was won. He was elected governor of New York, running far ahead of E. Smith as President, and the national ticket was won. He was elected governor of New York, running far ahead of E. Smith as President, and the national ticket was won.

INSTANT 27

The 1930 campaign itself was noteworthy for two things: first, Roosevelt determined singleness of purpose; and second, the impotence of his Republican foes.

True to his promise of 1925, he went before the people with one major issue: Water Power. He attacked the Republican obstruction as "Rubber Stampism," and urged the people to elect assemblymen and senators who would faithfully represent their constituents despite the power lobbyists who hovered in the hallways of the legislature.

The Republican leaders, confronted with Roosevelt's achievements, frankly did not know where to turn. They adhered strictly to old policy, favored private development of the St. Lawrence water power . . . but they did not dare to go to the people on that issue. They knew they would lose. Casting about for a sham battle cry which would obscure the power problem, they decided to run "wringing wet." But Roosevelt, sensing their purpose, spiked their guns by himself declaring for return of liquor control to the states. He believed there should be a Federal provision, however, that no matter what any state might decide to do about liquor, it would be bound from permitting return of the saloon.

The only thing left the Republicans was to try to appear wetter than the Democrats. This they tried desperately to do by nominating Charles H. Tuttle, formerly an aviator, who was obviously bending before the wind in quest of votes. The position was patently weak. There wasn't enough substance in it, even to interest Candidate Governor Roosevelt. Nobody knew it better than the Republican leaders themselves. As Mr. Ottinger had done in 1928, they "dived into their chest once more and came up" with the corrupt judges attack—several magistrates in New York City had been exposed in irregularities. But even this attack was pathetically weak.

In the spring of 1929, the legislature had passed a bill authorizing the governor to conduct a general investigation of New York City. But the legislative action had contained no specifications; and that being so, the governor vetoed the bill, stating that a general investigation without specifications was a legislative function. He stressed the fact that the legislators had full prerogative to go ahead with it.

No legislative investigation materialized.

In August of that year, six New York City magistrates were charged with various forms of malfeasance. Under the law the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court had a specific duty of supervision over magistrates' courts; but that bench had failed to act. Governor Roosevelt "politely but firmly" suggested to its judges that they conduct an investigation. The Appellate Division acceded to his request and appointed a former judge of the Court of Appeals, Samuel Seabury, to conduct the inquiry. It was F. D., too, who first suggested Seabury for the task.

Seabury's investigation speedily brought about the resignation of three magistrates.

In September District Attorney Crain of New York county presented indictments against Magistrate Ewald and his wife to the grand jury. That body failed to indict. Governor Roosevelt de-

AQUEDUCT JOBS GUARANTEED AT STANDARD WAGE

Every workman on the Colorado river aqueduct will be guaranteed the standard wage that has been provided for in the wage schedule that are established by the Metropolitan Water district, whether construction of the project is done by contractors or by forces employed directly by the district.

That fact was made clear today in an official statement issued by Chairman W. P. Whitsett, speaking for the board of directors of the district, as the time drew near for the launching of work on the 13-mile San Jacinto tunnel, the first unit of aqueduct construction to be commenced.

"It should be distinctly understood," Whitsett said, "that any contractor who might do any other aqueduct project is legally bound to follow the wage scale that has been set up, and to observe strictly the district's regulations requiring the preferential employment of district citizens, as well as to see that each member city gets its proportionate share of the jobs available.

"Any contracts that might be signed from time to time for specific clauses of the project, including specific clauses covering these points, and any violation on the part of a contractor would be deemed a breach of contract, and the contractor would be penalized accordingly.

Fines For Violation

"In addition, the state law under which the district's wage scale was set up, clearly states that any contractor or subcontractor who pays less than the minimum wage specified shall be fined $10 for every day that the law is violated in each individual case.

"The same care has been taken in protecting the rights of war veterans. In accordance with Reconstruction Finance Corporation requirements, all contracts which have been signed and which may be signed in the future very definitely provide that preference be given to ex-service men with dependents.

"The minimum wages which can be paid by contractors or by the district are fixed by the district's board of directors, in accordance with the provision of the state law. This scale of pay is written into every contract and will be strictly enforced. The minimum wage for common labor is $3.30 per day. Skilled workmen will be paid proportionately higher wages.

"The district wage scale was adopted after a thorough study had been made of the wages actually being paid in Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino counties, and is somewhat higher, on the whole, than the average wages being paid by official and non-official employers in these four counties.

List Requirements

"The law and regulations under which the district will operate in building the aqueduct lay down four definite requirements:

"1. Employment is to be limited to citizens of the 13 cities in the district, except in those instances where it is impossible to secure locally certain expert services.

"2. Preference must be given to ex-service men with dependents.

"3. Each city in the district must be given its share of employment.

"4. All workmen, whether employed by contractors or by the district, are guaranteed a scale of wages which in no instance can be less than the minimum rates of pay that have been fixed by the district."

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Christmas Party and Surprise Shower Held in Orange

Their Christmas party this week in the Orange home of Mrs. Oliver Wickersham, West Sycamore avenue, held special significance for members of the Church and Sew club, who took this opportunity to compliment Mrs. John J. Vernon of Santa Ana.

As a gift exchange was a pleasant feature of the evening, Mrs. Vernon did not suspect that many of the pretty wrapped packages were for her. On opening ribbon tied silver scrolls on the decorated Christmas tree, guests found numbers corresponding with those on the exchange gifts. However, there was a larger scroll for Mrs. Vernon, whose lucky number made it possible for her to receive a selection of Santa shower articles in addition to her Christmas remembrance.

Guests sewed during the evening. The pretty Christmas tree which served earlier in the affair as a setting for the gift exchange, proved a colorful centerpiece for the buffet supper coming at the close of the affair. Holly and poinsettias attractively arranged contributed to the holiday background.

Those sharing Mrs. Wickersham's hospitality were Mrs. Harvey Emley and Mrs. Emley Campbell, Garden Grove; Mrs. Edna West-Coffe and Mesdames J. T. McInnis, Vern O. Bates, Ervin F. McInnis, Earl Woods, Ernestine Nighthale, Carl Pister of Orange; Mrs. John J. Vernon, Mrs. Theo Naill, Mrs. Ruth Riggle and Mrs. Dale Griggs of Santa Ana. Mrs. Emley is to be hostess to the club on January 2.

YOU and your Friends

Mrs. Frances Schweitzer who is taking post graduate work at Berkeley arrived here this week to spend Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Schweitzer, 1024 Kilson drive.

Mrs. Dorothy Forgy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Forgy of 1107 North Broadway, who left some weeks ago on a trip to Cuba and Mexico, is at present in Mexico City, according to word received by her parents. Mrs. Forgy, who expected to return December 23, may not reach home until after Christmas, her parents revealed, her stay in Havana having been extended thus delaying her arrival in Mexico. The Santa Ana girl reports a most interesting trip.

Mrs. A. B. Lester and her daughter, Miss Eucelene Lester, of 1967 West First street, are suffering from attacks of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rindard of Pasadena avenue, Tustin, have left for Ada, Okla., on a business trip. They will be gone about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doles and daughter, Gertrude Ellen, of Evanston, Ill., are in this city and in western. Mrs. Doles, who was Mrs. Elsie Harrison before her marriage, resided in Santa Ana many years and was well known in local musical circles as a soloist. During their Orange county stay, which will be extended until the first of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Doles and their daughter will divide their time between visits with Mrs. Doles's sisters, Mrs. Mark Menges and Mrs. G. W. Finch, both of Fullerton, and with friends in Santa Ana.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter, 826 South Ross street, was one of the honorees today at the annual installation luncheon of the Women's County Medical association, in the Ambassador hotel. Mrs. Coulter is president of the state auxiliary association.

Panhellenic Plans for Christmas Dance Are Completed

Tuesday night's meeting of Panhellenic society with Mrs. Elsie Daley, 1811 Bush street, was an especially interesting one, as the greater part of the business program was devoted to plans for the society's biggest social event of the year, the annual Christmas Panhellenic dance for the junior college loan fund.

Mrs. Harry G. Huffman, president, called for various reports but interest centered in that offered by Mrs. Harry LeBard, dance chairman. Some of her information already was known by her sister members, including the date and place for the festive affair on Tuesday night, December 27, in Orange Woman's clubhouse, as tickets for the event have been obtained for some little time past.

The best music obtainable will be featured, for the Louise Shirley orchestra is to play. There will be a small group of patrons and patronesses to greet arriving guests. To this group have been asked Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson. Mrs. Bailey is a past president of Panhellenic whose interests in the organization are well known. Mr. Henderson is city superintendent of schools, and especially interested in the student loan fund which the dance will increase.

To complete this group will be members of the Student Loan Fund committee with their wives or husbands; Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. John Tessenmann, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley and Mrs. Robert Northcross.

Concluding the business program, society turned their attention to bridge for which tables were placed amidst colorful Christmas sprays of coteaster and poinsettias. High score in the resultant games was made by Mrs. Clarence McFadden, with Miss Ruth Langley and Mrs. Harry LeBard taking second and third places. An ensemble idea in quaint pitchers in Mexican glass was adopted in the prizes, the three prettiest pieces of handcraft going to the winners in the order of their scores.

Mrs. Daley with her co-hostesses, Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Emory Kripe, Mrs. Gilmore Ward and Miss Josephine Hoffman, completed their hospitality by serving ribbons, sandwiches, stuffed eggs, hot chocolate and Christmas cookies, at tables spread with gleaming linens and centered with red candles.

Church Societies

Westminster Guild

Brief talks by Miss Letitia Morgan and by Miss Virginia Goodwin and the reading of a poem by Miss Marian Hawk were features of a program presented before Westminster Guild of the First Presbyterian church Monday night following a covered dish dinner. The program was presented by Miss Barbara Crawford, chairman.

During a business discussion plans were considered for a box supper party to be held at a later date.

First Presbyterian

Women of the First Presbyterian Missionary society held their Christmas meeting this week in the church, with Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, president, in charge. Mrs. Clyde Downing was program chairman for the day.

Mrs. Allen M. McDermott conducted devotionals, giving the Christmas story. Miss Lucy Schaefer, a missionary, told of her work in Utah. Miss Estelle Dunlap, who is home on furlough, brief case from the society, with Mrs. W. W. Anderson making the presentation. Miss Daniels accepted with a short talk.

KIWANIS OFFICERS INSTALLED AT BRILLIANT DINNER DANCE

Following a custom established a number of years ago, of making their installation ceremonies coincide with a holiday dinner dance for their wives and other guests, Kiwanis club members last night were hosts at one of the most brilliant parties of a colorful Yuletide. They entertained at Santa Ana Country club and closed an eminently successful year under the regime of Fred Newcomb jr., at the same time launching the administration of Dr. Harry G. Huffman.

In the receiving line to greet arrivals were the 1932 officers and their wives, including Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Martin, and others. The women in charming gowns, Yuletide greens decking the entire clubhouse, a big fire blazing on the hearth in the main assembly room, and above all, the friendly camaraderie of the Kiwanians and Kiwanettes, were contributing factors to the evening's enjoyment.

Gay Dinner Scene

The great chandeliers, wreathed in tinsel and Christmas colors, and the radiance from scores of crimson candles, shone on an animated scene as guests sought places at the tables for the turkey dinner served. Sprays of coteaster trailed the full length of each table, with candles and Yuletide symbols at frequent intervals. At the officers' table, especially effective touch was given by a beautifully wrought scene of the Nativity.

The dinner hour was enlivened by music, with Arthur Cannon as pianist and as accompanist for the Kiwanis Octet in song numbers. "The Old Village Choir," "Happy Days Are Here Again," "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" and other favorites were sung by the men, not songs were sung by the men, not only at the dinner hour but at intervals during the dance program following.

Solo parts were sung by Jerry Hall, and by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, with Kiwanians C. E. Walker, Don Rice, Ellis Diehl, Orly Robertson, A. F. Crowell and Dr. Charles V. Doty completing the group. For his piano solo, Mr. Cannon chose the rippling "Canadian Capers," and responded to the enthusiastic applause with the request number, "Down South," which had been so well received on the memorable occasion of the Kiwanis minstrel show.

Installing Officer

In a short talk during which he introduced Arthur Corey of Buena Park, as installing officer, Mr. Newcomb outlined some of the activities of the past year. He spoke of the fact that the club had maintained its entertainment program with an increased sum turned into charitable and welfare channels, pointing out that the entertainment program was served to give employment to many at the same time that it continued the friendly relations between club members and with them and their friends. The club's budget, its new members, its logical growth in face of a discouraging year, all were touched upon in the course of his talk.

Arthur Corey, lieutenant governor of the division, made installation ceremonies brief but most interesting. He commended the retiring president for a highly successful administration, and in presenting him with the past presidents pin, pointed out how Mr. Newcomb had helped build into that symbol, the responsibility and honors that it carried.

In transferring the president's emblem to Dr. Harry G. Huffman, he served which it carried. After the ceremony, those present were given some understanding of how capably Dr. Huffman is fitted to embrace these opportunities, by an impromptu talk by William J. Tway, who recounted some of the

Miss Langley Relates Panama Experiences For Travel Group

Incidents and episodes humorous and near-tragic, which made her trip to the Panama canal zone a memorable one, were recounted by Miss Ruth Langley before fellow members in Junior Ebell travel section last evening. Section members met as guests of the Misses Nan and Lolita Mead in their home, 2119 North Main street.

Miss Langley, who was accompanied on her trip by Miss Tessie Childers and Miss Maurine Mathers, both of this city, described the trip's visits to private homes, to cathedrals and to schools in such interesting cities as Mazatlan, San Jose, Guatemala, San Salvador, Balboa, Panama City, The Santa Ana party also visited Havana, Cuba, and New York City. The schools held a special appeal for the trio, all being engaged in the teaching profession in this city, and Miss Langley described Mexican children as being so active and energetic as to make discipline in the school room of the southern country more difficult to preserve than in American cities. A rush by an airplane, fortuitously handy, to catch a boat missed at another port because of a taxi breakdown, was an exciting moment recounted. Stereoscopic views of various spots visited were shown by Miss Langley with the aid of Miss Childers.

Miss Louise Maloney will entertain the group January 18 in her home, 1620 North Baker street, with Mrs. Robert Lancaster assisting. Enjoying Miss Langley's talk were Mesdames Clarence McFadden, E. M. Sundquist, Robert Lancaster, Ralph Livingstone; the Misses Wilma Plavan, Mary Salley, Louise Maloney, Frances Egge, Tessie Childers and Nan and Lolita Mead.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

SCIENTIST IN TRAVELOGUE AT CHURCH SUNDAY

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Dr. Daniel Davenport, Los Angeles explorer and scientist, who will speak in the First Presbyterian church Sunday night. According to Dr. Davenport, the African pigmies, believed by some scientists to be the descendants of the original inhabitants of that continent, are doomed to extinction. "These diminutive people who live back in the dank forests of the Belgian Congo steadfastly refuse to accept the white man's civilization and its accompanying hygiene and rapidly are succumbing to disease," the scientist explained.

"For a time it seemed as if the gorilla, too, were doomed but now that we have a sanctuary for them it is believed that the species will be perpetuated. "Cannibalism still is rampant in the remote sections of Equatorial Africa and will not be stamped out until these sections have been reached by the missionaries."

Dr. Davenport is one of the few white men to survive the bite of the deadly cobra which he experienced on his last expedition into Equatorial Africa, where he spent nearly six years in scientific work and where both his colleagues succumbed, one a victim of a charging rhinoceros and the other dying from yellow fever.

The title chosen for Dr. Davenport's address here is: "Cannibals, Gorillas, Pigmies." Everybody is welcome. Dr. Robert Burns McAlay, pastor, says that both adults and children will enjoy the travelogue. It will not be given in scientific language.

VALUE OF RIGHT FOODS CITED IN P.-T. A. SPEECH

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Miss Helen Culp was the speaker at the meeting of the Intermediate P.-T. A. Wednesday, when she spoke on the topic, "Is Your Child a Perfect Child?" Miss Culp, who is head of the girls' physical education department of the Orange Union High school, outlined the examinations given to girls in order to determine the extent of their activities in sports sponsored by the school.

She stressed the value of the right kinds of food in building healthy bodies and the importance of right posture. Formerly children were urged to throw back their shoulders in order to stand erect, now, she said, they are told to stand to look their height. Mrs. Carl Sutton was program chairman.

A brief business session was conducted by the president of the association, Mrs. C. W. Wesley Kolthorst. Mrs. L. L. Williams, Mrs. Louise Bradshaw and Mrs. W. R. Ebersole were appointed a committee to select a room prize for the year. Mrs. Bradshaw's room won the prize for the largest attendance of mothers.

Grade mothers were introduced, as follows: 6-1, Mrs. C. E. Wood; 6-2, Mrs. Stanley Mansur; 6-3, Mrs. C. E. Short; 7-1, Mrs. Charles Goode; 7-2, Mrs. A. H. Barnes; 7-3, Mrs. A. J. Schoenfeld; 8-1, Mrs. W. R. Ebersole; 8-2, Mrs. Vern Estes; and 8-3, Mrs. C. A. Palmer.

A food sale will be held at the January meeting. It was announced. Mrs. Sutton presented each of the members with attractive booklets containing the year's programs, made by Miss Agnes Shambaugh and Mrs. Emily Seaman, of the school faculty. Mrs. L. F. Finley, membership chairman, announced that the membership of the association was now 72.

A musical program was given by two talented young artists, Johnnie Stout, violinist, and Miss Olive Swietzler, pianist.

COLDS YIELD TO FAMOUS VAPOR TREATMENT

"Nothing better for quick results," doctors agree.

If you start early enough, there is no better treatment for colds than the warm vapors of Turpentine, Menthol and Camphor. But they must be warm. The soothing, healing medicines must be inhaled through a vaporizer. That's the way to clear up congestion and inflammation.

Don't try unscientific home methods. Go to the drugist and buy a Turpo Electric Vaporizer and a jar of the famous Turpo Vaporizing Ointment—a full $2.50 value—for only 98 cents. Then you can control head colds, influenza, sinus trouble or any cold that attacks your breathing tubes. Relief is immediate.

Get your complete TURPO outfit today at this amazing special price. If you are not entirely satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly returned.

TRIP TO CHILE DESCRIBED FOR SERVICE CLUB

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—Harry Lewis, of Santa Ana, was the speaker at the meeting of the Orange Lions club yesterday, telling details of a trip to Chile which he took a few years ago. Throughout the talk, Lewis made interesting comparisons between that country and California.

"Chile," Lewis said, "has a coast line of 2800 miles and California's coast line is 750 miles. Antofagasta on the coast is a city of 50,000 persons and as it has not rained in that territory for a period of 50 years, water is piped to the city 193 miles across the nitrate desert."

The fruit industry compares in variety to that of this state and 200,000 acres are planted to grapes, with 240,000 to other varieties of fruits. Three millions of acres are irrigated. The country is from 24 to 150 miles wide and the climate ranges from that of the tropics to that of the frigid zone.

To Santa Duncy promptly said, "We will be glad to go ahead and work hard in your toy shop. We are energetic boys."

"We'll try our elds and games and such. That really won't amount to much. In fact we'll do most anything that has to do with toys."

Then Windy chimed in, saying, "Gee! Leave all the fine airplanes for me. I am an aviator. I'll make sure they're working right."

"I'll wind them up and sail them round and they won't flop down to the ground. I'll promise I won't let a single one sail out of sight."

"Hey! Wait a minute," Santa cried. "All of my toys soon can be eyed, but first of all I have another task that you must do."

"I knew that all you lads are strong. If you work fast, it won't take long. I'll let you have some real fun, just as soon as you are through."

"All right, what is it?" Scouty said. And Santa answered, "Turn your head and look out o'er the yonder hills. Some Christmas trees you'll see."

"They are the finest I have found. I'm late in sending them around. I'll give you saws and axes. You can cut them down for me."

And then he clapped his hands and cried, "Hey, workers, gather by my side!" A lot of funny little men came toward him on the run. "Take these lads out," said Santa Claus, "to help you cut trees."

McFADDEN BEYOND CONSIDERATION

Some people have been making inquiry about this man McFadden, Congressman from Pennsylvania, who moved to impeach the President. This is not the first time that McFadden has come into the limelight over his assaults upon President Hoover. He is convinced in his own mind that the moratorium was granted for the purpose of helping the international bankers, and against the interest of the people. We recall his attack several months ago, at which time we discussed it. We said at that time words which we believe might be applied with equal truth today.

It could be clearly taken from Mr. McFadden's argument that he would have it appear that the President took this position on behalf of the moratorium, not because of the help that it would render Germany and the international situation, but to make more secure the loans of private bankers, and to enable the private bankers to receive payments of money, which otherwise would go to the liquidation of the national debt. We cannot believe that this is true.

It is not only possible, but undoubtedly true, that the moratorium or the total cancellation of debts owed by Germany and the other nations, would make more secure the loans by private parties, but so far from this being legitimate, in a sense it is the very purpose of the moratorium or of cancellation.

It enables people, individuals, to do business. It insures them that the money of their debtors is not to be taken entirely by government taxes. It tends toward rehabilitation. It adds to the security of people doing business. It dissipates misunderstanding and disaster.

The fact that some of our large international bankers would profit is simply because they are large creditors. But every creditor and every workman is bound to profit through stabilization. It will not be difficult to arouse the animosity and prejudice of people in these times of stress against will not be deceived, for under our present system, anything that benefits a whole people like a moratorium or the cancellation of national debts, is bound to benefit the well-to-do as well as the poor.

They are a part of the entire body, and in any good fortune, they receive their share in proportion to their holdings, and their holdings being larger, the amounts are larger. We have no doubt that some of these forces used their influence to get the moratorium. We are glad they did.

It saved Germany from wreck, and undoubtedly has been of great benefit. And while the well-to-do in the general profit may get a banquet out of values, the rest of us may be enabled to get a lunch.

It will also be remembered that this is the man whom the wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, opposed for the nomination, but she was beaten, and McFadden was renominated and re-elected.

What he believes, he really believes, and he is certain that he can see the motives of it. Evidently his constituents in his Pennsylvania district were convinced of the justice of his position. But McFadden's mind certainly is not well balanced. Even if the international bankers were aided in the private payment of debts to them by the granting of the moratorium, and even if this were the design, in part, of those who favored it, and granted it, it would not by any means follow that it was an unwise or unpatriotic procedure.

A NEW CHAPTER IN WORLD HISTORY

Well did the Good Book tell us that the "love of money is the root of all evil."

France refuses to pay her debt to the United States. Our country will retaliate by placing a prohibition upon loans to France, or the advertising of her securities in this country, or the sending of them through the mail. France, in turn, will make some other retaliatory move, or try to.

Ill feeling will be flamed into hatred, and the jingoes of Japan are watching with delight that will probably not be very long concealed. While France's sentiments are understandable, in the light of the moratorium which helped her traditional enemy a year ago, yet her refusal to pay this amount is so far reaching in its actual damage, and so limitless in its potentialities for evil, it is away beyond reason.

Belgium, Poland, Greece and Hungary, which also defaulted, are in a condition where their default does not mean personal hostility. We, of course, on this side of the water, say France is abundantly able to pay, and we presume that France will say with equal ardor, as far as that report is concerned, that the American nation is a wealthy nation, and she is in no real distress. Certainly France should be taught by this episode that there are serious consequences following in the wake of the refusal of an able debtor to pay, as in the case of one that is practically bankrupt.

The one individual in the United States who is probably enjoying France's attitude, is William Randolph Hearst, who was denied admission to France, as it will be recalled, a couple of years ago. It places him, incidentally, in a position where he can "get back at" France with a vengeance, and he is already starting.

MAN ACTS "NATURAL" SEE HOW THAT IS

We are beginning to get interested in the subject of insanity. A man arises in the lobby of Congress, flourishes a cocked, loaded revolver, frightens people nearly to death, and when asked what he wants, he says he wants to make a speech. The Congressman said: "All right, give me your gun, and I will let you make a speech." He hands his gun over, and then the officers, on arresting him, says the man acts perfectly natural,—that there is nothing insane about him.

Well, these officers, who seem to be closely related to the Congressmen, know more about the natural craving of a man to make a speech than we people out here do. Regardless of questioning afterwards, we would consider that if a man arose, with a gun, in a public assembly, and said he wanted to make a speech, we wouldn't need any more evidence that the man was crazy. But in Congress that is not sufficient. It may be the final evidence of sanity.

He should have gone over to the Senate chamber, where a Senator spoke day before yesterday to absolutely empty seats—not a soul there but himself, the presiding officer and a clerk. Evidently there are two classes of sane people in Washington,—those who are willing to shoot people in order to make a speech, and those who are willing to be shot rather than listen to them. All of them escaped in these two cases. Everybody is sane. We wonder what it is about folks, if it isn't insanity, that makes them act that way.

Don't worry about the flappers who stick to their chignon hose, zero or no. Many are cold but few are frozen.

"COUNTING THE CHICKENS BEFORE THEY ARE HATCHED"

Secretary of the Treasury Mills, declares that the beer tax, if one is levied, and beer is made legal, will not return to the government more than $150,000,000, at $5.00 a barrel. The Democratic beer enthusiasts have been declaring that it would bring $300,000,000.

We wonder if the difference in the estimate isn't determined by the way the declarer feels. We can conceive of some men feeling that they could almost make an assurance that there would be that much drunk; they are so thirsty themselves. But others look upon the quantity that that means, and of the small container a man is, with the undeveloped appetite for beer in the last 12 years.

But counting upon a tax on an article which it is now illegal to sell, which, when it was legal, was drunk by the masses, who today have a lesser appetite, and who are in need of things more important for their daily life than this particular article, is not the financiering of statesmen.

The B. B. C. Enters the Teen Age

The B. B. C. has just celebrated its tenth anniversary amid deserved plaudits. The name B. B. C. is used advisedly, for the organization that sent out the first regular British radio program in November, 1922, was the British Broadcasting company, while the present source of British radio is the British Broadcasting Corporation. The two organizations, however, have more than their initials in common. Their policies are identical, for the corporation is the direct heir and successor of the company, whose activities it took over on the last day of December, 1926.

From the outset the B. B. C. decided to rely for its finances upon the service—pleasure and instruction—which it rendered to its listeners. Putting aside the idea of gaining revenue from selling the air to advertisers, it instituted an annual license charge of 10 shillings for each radio set. A considerable portion of this sum is taken by the Post Office and the Treasury. What is left of it forms practically the only source of income the B. B. C. can command, for its profits from the sale of radio literature are comparatively small.

The B. B. C., therefore, like any other commercial organization, depends for its prosperity on making the public like what it gives it. In that respect it is like the cinema. But, unlike the cinema, the B. B. C. does not think that this necessarily means giving the public "what it wants." Its policy under Sir John Reith, its very able director-general, has always been to give the public something a little better than it wants, in the hope that it will soon want something better itself. This is the reason why symphony concerts, educational talks and experimental plays are so frequently broadcast.

The result of this policy has been hugely successful. In 1922 there were 18,000 license holders in Great Britain; today there are 5,000,000. In 1922 programs were broadcast for thirty-three hours a week; they are now broadcast for eighty-three. In 1931 more than £20,000,000 was spent in Britain on radio sets and accessories. For the same year the B. B. C. was able to give to the treasury no less a sum than £1,000,000, while the Post Office received from it about £250,000. In fact, the British Broadcasting Corporation has made itself one of the foremost cultural and commercial successes of the twentieth century.

New Place Names Come From Racial Jealousies

San Bernardino Sun
It would never do for grown-ups today to try to answer geographically questions propounded by school children. Times change, and so do geographical names on maps. There are 1,226 names on a new map of the world, just published, which are different from what they were on a similar map 10 years ago, according to the National Geographic Society. In addition, there are more than 500 entirely new names, which the small fry might know but which would puzzle their parents—unless they have learned them in following current world news.

One factor which must have contributed to the wholesale revision of names is the growing nationalistic feeling in all parts of the world. Many communities now insist on native spellings of place names which before the war had been simplified. For the same reason, some modern place names have been dropped and the ancient names restored, for purely sentimental and patriotic reasons. New names, notably many in Russia, have come directly from political and social changes.

Bedlam In Reichstag

New York Times
"Bedlam in Reichstag." This is not altogether a bad thing. A touch of bedlam in the Reichstag may save a lot of bedlam in the country at large. That is what we all forget in being hard with the way Congress sometimes carries on; we overlook the large amount of explosive steam and gases released, for purely sentimental and patriotic reasons. New names, notably many in Russia, have come directly from political and social changes.

THE BULL REBELS

Things aren't going smoothly with Spain,
She is losing the glamour of yore,
Few bold caballeros remain
For the olive-skinned maids to adore.
There has been a sad shortage, for year after year,
Of things so delightfully Spanish,
And now the inhabitants cherish the fear
That the breed of el Toros must vanish.

The light leaping torador
May dodge every furious raid
Of the maddened beef critter no more,
For there won't be a bull to evade,
No sweet señoritas can toss him bouquets
And scream out in accents that thrill him,
As he fixes the brute with a blood curdling
The Spanish expression for "Kill him!"

The sport in which Britons delight,
The American National game,
Compared to a man-and-brute fight,
The Spaniard would look on as tame.
No wonder the gentle souled dames of Castile
Feel all the emotions of Nero
As he fiddled a Latin Virginia reel,
When they gaze on their sword-swishing hero.

But alas for the days of Romance!
The bull has discovered at last
That he hasn't a Chinaman's chance
When the bunting-draped portal is passed.
No more he'll trot forth at the picador's call,
He declines to behave as he oughter,
But basely prefers to pass out in his stall
Than be led like a lamb to the slaughter.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ROOSEVELT'S TRIPLE TASK

Mr. Roosevelt will, I think, early in his administration encounter the fact that the major American perplexities that will harass and haunt his desk are all rooted in three basic difficulties that mark the current world situation.

These three world difficulties, which I have discussed before in general terms, are:

(1) The but thinly veiled breakdown of the world's financial system.

This breakdown is due to the fact that the world's credit and currency system has not been kept wisely adjusted to the changing needs of the world's economic enterprise.

(2) The revolutionary changes that science and technology have effected in the world's industrial system.

The net and perilous result of these changes is that fewer and fewer workers in less and less time can produce more than the world's population can buy, with its present purchasing power, or use, with its present margin of leisure.

(3) The strange revival, since the war, of a stubborn and swash-buckling nationalism the world around.

This reborn nationalism stands in active opposition to that increasing internationalism of economic interest which is inevitable in a world bound together, as the world of today is, by swift transportation, instantaneous communication, credit, contract, capital and corporate organization. The policies of the world's governments grow increasingly national while the processes of the world's life grow increasingly international. The result is that the world's political system today makes it virtually impossible to operate an effective economic system either within the nations or between the nations.

The events of the next four years will, I predict, convince even the most reluctant traditionalist that, unless and until statesmanship restudies and readjusts the financial system, the economic system, and the political system in terms of the changing circumstances of this new age of science and the machine, politics will continue to be little more than an irrelevant shadow-boxing in the suburbs of reality.

Here is the triple challenge that the American scene and the world situation fling to Mr. Roosevelt. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

WHAT OF IT?

Much of our complaining about the children is of no account. Many of our sharp criticisms are unnecessary. We have the picture of an ideal of a child in mind and when the actual child differs from the dream we are troubled, or annoyed, and attempt to make the child conform to our notion. Most of the friction in families is caused by this mistaken attitude.

A plump child is born in a family whose thinness is a marked characteristic. His uneasy parents and relatives speak about it in his presence. "Where did such a fat little boy, or girl, come from? What makes you such a fatty?" Under the sprightly tone there is a note of annoyance. "Our family is slim, you know." The child feels the concealed criticism and reacts to it according to his nature. He is hurt and he is bewildered. Why is it that he is fat? What can he do about it? Won't people like him?

If a child is born with a pug nose and the family like straight ones better, if he has freckles and mother prides herself on her clear skin, if he has big hands and feet and father has dainty ones, if he is reticent and the family loquacious, what of it? What can he do about it? Or, for that matter?

The child was born with characteristic physical features, with certain strong traits and tendencies. Are you going to make his life miserable because you fancied a different set for him? Or are you going to accept him good humoredly and do your best to help him grow to his own advantage? That would assuredly be the better way for you in the long run. It is the way that has to be taken in the end. Why not at the beginning?

Next time you feel tempted to suffer because your child has some annoying characteristic, one that is not truly fundamental to his mental and physical health, just ask yourself, "What of it?" Keep asking until the answer comes to you. "Just nothing at all." This child is going to make his way in the world in spite of his red hair, or his awkwardness, or his weight. What counts is his mind. If that is strong, it is beautiful and mental beauty illuminates the body with a radiance that wipes out all crudities, even absurdities.

If a child is made to feel unfit his mind suffers. I am against mental suffering for children—adults too, for that matter. I believe that it is our duty to save children from mental distress whenever we can. We ought to be on the alert to prevent it. That means we should not make remarks about a child's personal characteristics in a way that wounds his spirit. If a child is awkward study how to help him grow in grace, remembering all young things are clumsy at the start. If hair is straight when curls would be lovelier, if it is a difficult color, dress it to advantage. No healthy child ever had ugly hair. If he has a blemish or a defect that you can help, help it. If it can't be helped, what of it?

I don't believe children grow their own feelings of inferiority. I believe they are made for them by mistaken adults. If a child is taken as he is, with good humor and affection, he isn't going to look for something to worry himself about. He will say as you say "What of it?"

Lieutenant Charles L. Deaver of Riverside, former Santa Ana high school teacher, who had been officially reported as missing in action since October 6, was said to have been recovering in a base hospital in France from the effects of gas received in front line trenches.

The I. M. Von Schrlitz ranch southwest of Santa Ana, had the distinction of having the largest acreage of any ranch in the United States, set to peppers. An enormous crop from 1200 acres was ready for harvesting, a thousand acres to pimientos and 200 acres to chilis. The pimientos had been contracted for by a Los Angeles packing house, and brought the sum of $224,000.
